BOLD ROBBERY.

The millinery store on Chestnut street, Quincy, established last season by Mrs. C. E. Snow was entered on Monday night and about $500 worth of feathers, velvets, satins, silks, ribbons, &c., were carried off.

The first that was known of the robbery was the next morning. Mr. Snow who lives in Maple place, near by, went over to the store early to make the fire, and found things in confusion. The side window, near Mrs. Willis's residence was pried open and things on the table covered by moved one-side, and the show cases and flower boxes nearly empty.

Mrs. Willis heard a noise between one and two o'clock in the morning, which is now supposed to have been made by the rogues getting in. It was a dark, rainy night, making a very favorable time for such evil work. It is supposed the thieves came in a carriage and that they knew the value of millinery goods as only those of the best quality were taken.

The loss falls quite heavily on Mr. and Mrs. Snow, and they have the sympathy of many friends.

Atlantic Reservoir.

The steamer and a few members of its company were engaged all of last Saturday afternoon in filling the new reservoir on Billings street and Com. street, which is considerably larger than any other built by the town.

When previously filled muddy salt water was used, but it is now full of clear spring water, obtained from a well which supply the felt mill, a road having been built so that the steamer could reach them in safety.

We are informed that it is now perfectly tight, and it will undoubtedly prove of great value in case of fire in that part of Atlantic.

A MAD BULL. On Saturday afternoon last John Keenan, a lad of fifteen years, got badly injured by a bull kept in his father's pasture, rear of his residence, corner of Main and South streets. A workman was assisting in unloading and spreading salt grass to dry when the bull came up towards him. The man, being somewhat afraid, asked the lad to drive him away, which he attempted to do. The animal, not wishing to go, attacked the boy. The employee, a strong, healthy fellow, who had a pitchfork in his hand, instead of stopping and helping the lad to keep the enraged animal away, ran for dear life out of the field. John, who had one lame arm from an injury recently received, tried to keep the bull away, but was overpowered and thrown into the air. When he came down the fence beat him on the head, and he lay on the ground, his arm broken, and his head bleeding.

Mr. Terrence Keenan, who was several hundred feet away, hearing the outcry, hurried to his son's rescue, and succeeded in driving the bull away. Dr. Johnson was immediately summoned, and dressed the wounds, and we are pleased to say, found no bones broken, but some badly jammed out of place. The boy is doing nicely, and will soon be around again.

IN MEMORIAM. Services in memory of the late Rev. Samuel Kelley, of Quincy, were held in the Town Hall Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Grand Temple of Honor of Massachusetts, of which organization Father Kelley was the Grand Worthing Chaplain.

Past Grand Worthing Temple, A. H. Lewis of East Boston presided, and after a prayer by Rev. S. L. Gracy of Chelsea, the chairman made an opening address, followed by the following named members of the order:—D. I. Robinson of Gloucester, Grand Worthing Temple; E. H. Clapp of Boston, Past Grand Worthing Temple; Rev. R. T. Sawyer of Quincy, Worthing Chaplain; Walter Babcock of Boston, Past Grand Worthing Temple; and Hon. Charles Q. Tirrell of Natick, Past Grand Worthing Temple. Excellent music by the Mystic Masonic Chorus, of Boston, interspersed the speeches. The various traits of character of the deceased were alluded to by the several speakers and lessons of instruction drawn from his fidelity to duty and devotion to the order he loved so well. A good sized audience was present and listened with apparent interest.

CHRIST CHURCH. The services at Christ Church last Sunday morning were very interesting. Although the day was stormy and disagreeable, it did not prevent a large number being present. The singing was very fine, and appropriate to the occasion. At the close of the services the choir of confirmation was administered to seven by Rev. Benjamin H. Paddock, Bishop of the Diocese.

CONCERT. A concert will be given at the Town Hall on Monday evening the 15th inst., for the benefit of the Congregational Church of Quincy Point. Brilliant talent, as will be seen by advertisement, is engaged to furnish the finest musical entertainment ever given in this town.

CONVENTION. The State Reform Club Convention will be held at Natick on Wednesday, Oct. 10th. The delegates from the Quincy Reform Club are John D. Nutting, Henry H. Faxon, George Vearie, Henry Chubbuck, Elbridge Jay, Thomas Kelly, Nathaniel Nightingale.

DORCHESTER. Last week the Boston Beacon published a list of one hundred and thirty-five variations in spelling the word "Dorchester." The words were copied from letters passing through the post office by Henry Brown, clerk, and are a real curiosity of orthography.

INQUESTS. Judge Humphrey, of the East Norfolk District Court, has filed inquest returns in the cases of Frank Garner of Fall River, killed on the 8th of June at Hallowell, Maine; William Cunningham, killed at Quincy on the 15th of June, and Joseph W. Rogers on the 11th of August. The deaths were all on the Old Colony Railroad, and the Justice finds the corporation blameless for said deaths.

Next Saturday evening the entertainment provided by the People's Course will be one peculiarly interesting on account of the number of novel instructives to be played upon. Messrs. Olney and Lee are said to be remarkably skillful in their performances.

Brief Locals.

October came in wet and cold.

But, where are the hand-organs?

Ice has formed nearly every morning this week.

A strong girl, to make wax flowers, is wanted.

There has been no deaths in Quincy since our last issue.

Mr. G. F. Wilson and wife visited the Brockton fair on Friday.

The Water Company have commenced laying their pipes in our streets.

There will be a Republican flag raising in the Square, on Wednesday evening next.

A number of the Quincy Bicycle Club attended the fair at Brockton on Wednesday.

Fall patterns, portfolios and "What to Wear" just received at G. T. Defrees.

The lawn at the public library is beginning to look once more quite green.

Miss Nellie Bundy is spending a few weeks very pleasantly in Worcester.

Those troubled with colds and coughs should call at Durgin's drug store.

Probate Court will be held in Quincy on Wednesday next, at the Town House.

Chestnut street was lined with Italians yesterday, digging for the water pipes.

Mr. Frank A. Tirrell has returned home from his journey in the Western States.

Nobody will forget so good an entertainment as that to be given in the Town Hall to-night.

Mr. Jeffrey R. Brackett has returned from his three months' vacation in Canada, Maine.

The Italians who have been engaged to work on the water works arrived Thursday morning.

Mrs. Dr. Morrison and her daughter Emily, formerly of this town, left on Saturday last for Europe.

Dr. F. E. Buck was the purchaser of the first of the new two-cent stamps at the Quincy Post Office.

The Cambridge Bicycle Club passed through this town on Wednesday, on their way to the fair at Brockton.

Miss Leila Ordway, of this town, won the prize of two dollars for the best charcoal drawing at the Weymouth fair.

The numerous showers of late have started the grass and it is looking greener than at any time in August or September.

The new curbing front of the Congregational Church is expected to be laid next week. Preparations for the same are being made.

Read the Central Market advertisement; oysters, fancy groceries, fruit, vegetables, and all the luxuries of the season are to be found there.

Mrs. Lapham invites the attention of the ladies to her new stock of fall and winter millinery, which she is selling at Boston prices.

The Boston Methodist minister met in Wesleyan Hall, Boston, on Monday, and held a memorial service for the late Father Kelley of Quincy.

Joseph W. Lombard will sell on Thursday next, a large building, with the machinery, in Hingham, on South street, near the railroad depot.

Hon. George D. Robinson, the Republican candidate for Governor, has been engaged to speak in Quincy and Weymouth on Friday evening, October 26th.

Flowers and fruit for the Boston hospitals may be left on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday next at the house of Mr. H. H. Faxon, Washington street.

Joseph W. Lombard sold at mortgagee's sale, on Thursday morning at the printing office recently occupied by Mr. Clarence A. Spooner, a lot of type, cutters, press, etc.

Mr. Samuel Wales has moved to the court-room building, and is prepared to cleanse and repair all kinds of ladies' and gentlemen's woolen garments.

Mr. Edward A. Spear has removed his furniture business to the opposite basement, under Mr. James W. Pierce's. He has also removed his residence to Chestnut street.

There will be a Republican rally at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening. Hon. H. J. Jennings of Fall River and W. H. Sayward, Esq., of Boston are the speakers. The Union Band has been engaged.

The tenth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, at Central Baptist Church, Cambridgeport. Sessions 10 A. M., 2 and 7 P. M.

A lot of four-inch iron pipes of the Quincy Water Company have arrived, and been placed in the gutters along some of the short streets. They are in pieces about 12 feet long, and workmen have been engaged in soldering two lengths together, before laying.

Water was running in Sachem's brook, which passes through Wollaston to Quincy bay, on Tuesday for the first time for many weeks. The brook has not been dry before for many years.

We learn that Mr. Russ B. Walker, the popular and successful teacher of dancing, has had numerous solicitations from our young people to open an evening class in Faxon Hall about the last of this month or the first of November. If he consents, due notice and full particulars will be given. No other teacher seems to meet with so great success in Quincy.

Miss Lizzie, daughter of Mr. John W. Nash, gave a birthday party on Wednesday to a few of her friends. The afternoon was spent in youthful sports and pleasures, until they were invited to the dining room to partake of a bountiful collation, which consisted of sweets and goodies which every child delights in. Games were then continued until they separated for their homes. Each one declared they were an excellent time and hoped that Miss Lizzie would have a great many more birthday parties.

FIRE.

On Saturday night at half past ten o'clock an alarm of fire was rung in from box 72, for the burning of a dwelling-house owned by Mr. Cyrus Patch and his coal wharf and occupied by two families, Calvin Dyer's and John Delory's. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer were away during the evening and as they neared home on their return smelled smoke and saw the glare of fire through the windows. Mr. Dyer rushed into the house to save his child who was asleep in the upper part where the fire had made great headway and who fifteen minutes later would have been suffocated with smoke.

The Vulture well manned was soon on the spot and did great service and had the fire under control on arrival of the steamer which made good time.

This preventing what might have proved a most serious affair, several houses and a barn were saved in great danger. The fire was accidental and started in Mr. Dyer's part. Both families lost nearly all their furniture and all their clothes.

Loss on house, $1000; insured in the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for $800; loss on furniture, $1000; no insurance.

Those troubled with colds and coughs should call at Durgin's drug store.

Hough's Neck.

Mr. W. D. Overall and family broke camp on Friday, and returned to their home in Hyde Park. Mr. O. has manifested a great deal of interest in the welfare of the place, and has contributed largely to the funds raised for a social hall, by aiding the ladies and throwing open his cottage for entertainments. Hough's Neck cannot possibly spare such an active, energetic man in these days of her prosperity.

Messrs. Packard and Hawes, with their wives, from North Stoughton, drove to the Neck on Sunday last. Unfortunately the day was almost too stormy to be enjoyed much out of doors.

Mrs. Eva Mears took the first prize at the Weymouth fair for fancy work. Mr. Bates and family, who have occupied the Babcock cottage, took their departure on Monday.

The occupants of Loretto cottage returned to their homes in Boston on Thursday. Mr. Emerson, candidate for many improvements in the early spring. Mrs. J. D. Taber has been quite ill, disposed the present week, but we hope that the return of pleasant weather will restore her to her usual good health.

Mr. Crosby contemplates making some improvements on his cottage next spring.

Mr. Wright and family left the Neck on Friday.

Mr. W. A. Metcalf's family returned to Quincy on Friday.

We learn that the large tract of land on the southerly side of the road between the Willow house and Mr. Rufus Littlefield's has been sold. This land will probably be laid out into building lots. It is hoped that ere another season comes round Bay View avenue will be in better condition than it has been the present summer.

Mr. Mears is intending to make great improvements on Great Hill and vicinity, with the opening of spring. He has generously offered the Hough's Neck Social Union a very desirable lot for their social hall. The location is a fine one, and when a building is placed on it the cottagers will have a nice place to hold meetings or entertainments. A building of this kind is really a necessity, as the population of the little hamlet has increased so rapidly that the cottages are altogether too small for meetings, either social or religious. We are pleased to see so much interest felt in securing a proper place where the little community can meet together and enjoy an evening of sociability. With the opening of the next season renewed efforts will be made towards contributing funds for the new hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mears took a trip to Brockton on Thursday. They visited the fair, and then enjoyed a short stay with their daughter, Mrs. Grover.

Repairs were begun on the Congregational Church on Monday, and the work is progressing finely.

The first entertainment this season in the People's Course will be given to-night at the Town Hall, and promises to be one of the best.

The regular monthly meeting of the Vulture Engine Company was held on Monday evening.

The third meeting of the Church Fund Association was held on Friday evening.

There was quite a call for the new two-cent stamp on Monday. Rev. J. L. Harris made the first purchase at the Point office.

The Old Colony Memorial says: "Ground was broken on Monday last for the foundation of the Soldiers' Monument at Kingston. The granite work of the base is being prepared at Quincy, and is now nearly ready to be delivered. The bronze statue is expected soon, and probably by the middle of the month the monument will be ready for inauguration. Quite a public celebration will be made of the occasion when it occurs."

District Attorney Bumpus had remarkable success at the last term of the Criminal Court, only five being acquitted and an unusually large number pleading guilty, thus saving the County the expense of trial.—Quincy Times.

Hyde Park has formed a Law and Order League, to endeavor to prevent barbers, milkmen, stable-keepers and druggists from doing business on Sunday.

Inhabitants of Abington are paying forty cents a barrel for water, which has to be brought to them from a distance, most of the wells in the town having run dry.

NEW POSTAGE STAMPS. Considerable work will be entailed upon the city postal clerks in consequence of the new postage stamps. Heretofore letters have been readily distinguished by the different colored stamps for local rates, but now as the general and local rates are to be the same, the address will have to be more carefully studied. If this fact is borne in mind and the local letters are so plainly designated that their local character is unmistakable, much trouble will be saved the post-office authorities and greater certainty given to the prompt handling of letters.

Summary of News.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey, the revisers, sailed for Liverpool on Tuesday.

One million free baths were furnished by the city of Boston the past summer.

The Salem Republicans will hold a rally next week. An effort is being made to secure Charles F. Adams, Jr., of Quincy, as a speaker.

The Cape Cod Bee says: Mr. E. Fish of Greenville has raised 38 potatoes that filled a bushel measure.

Prohibitionists against Faxon.

A meeting of the Massachusetts Temperance Alliance was held in Boston, on Wednesday, at which Henry H. Faxon, Esq., of Quincy, was invited, and at which he was given one of the most severe attacks that any citizen has received for many a day.

At a prohibition meeting at Brockton last week, Mr. Faxon made a speech (which was published in the Patriot), which stirred up the ire of some of the radical prohibitionists and they got prepared and gave him an unmerciful whaling with their tongues. But being supplied with a good backbone, he stood up man-fashion, and with his characteristic vigor faced the music. He gave them some hard hits, which they could not well answer, and naturally got wrathful. One woman said he was an old fool, and old enough to know better. Hon. Charles Almy, prohibitionist candidate for governor, said: "that the town element knows Mr. Faxon and how to use him." We guess Mr. Almy would find himself mistaken if he should ask the former rum-sellers of Quincy and vicinity. They might gladly unite with Mrs. Richards and call him an old fool, but when asked if he had not assisted them in carrying on their business they would be obliged to say: "No, he is the hardest and worst enemy we ever had."

District Court, Quincy.

The following cases have been before the District Court since the issue of the Fall Term of the Court.

Patrick H. Kease, of Cambridge, for selling intoxicating liquors at the Pine Point House, Weymouth. Found guilty and fined $50 and costs. Another case against Kelly for a like offense was placed on file.

Liquors seized at Ellen M. Walsh's in Quincy, by Officer Faxon was ordered to be forfeited.

Mary A. Devine and Lizzie S. Eddy, Hand-picked, were each found guilty of larceny of cranberries from the meadow of Thomas Devine. The fine and costs amounted to $7.71 each.

James Mulhearn of Braintree for assault on Cornelius McGuire. Found guilty and fined $10 and costs. For non-payment was committed to the House of Correction.

Officers Gardner and Peare of Weymouth seized ninety-six bottles of lager beer at Alonzo Cleverly's in North Weymouth, on Wednesday.

$15.00 REWARD.

We copy the following article from the Boston Herald, by request of a lady in Quincy—

Four Minutes worth $25,000.
The value of time was aptly illustrated the other day, when four minutes cost a Boston bank $25,000.

Cheap Postage Reform.
We have noticed a very interesting communication in the Cincinnati Commercial Review, by Mr. J. B. Russell, of Boston, now eighty-two years of age, giving an account of this important reform, and as it came under his own observation, and as the subject is of peculiar interest at the present time, owing to a further reduction in the rate of postage, we reprint the communication.

Respectable smuggling, according to the reports of the New York Custom officials, being more extensively practiced here than ever. The fact that twenty-seven trunks containing $50,000 worth of smuggled goods, were seized on the steamer Alaska, which arrived in New York recently, is a fair sample of the wholesale extent to which smuggling is carried on.

Republican Rally.

Last Wednesday evening the Republicans of Quincy opened the fall campaign by a flag raising, music, fireworks, speeches, etc. Early in the evening a large crowd assembled on the square, and shortly before eight o'clock a large flag bearing the names of Robinson and Ames, the nominees of the party for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, was gracefully thrown to the breeze in front of the Republican headquarters, amid the usual display of colored fire and music by the Union Band of Quincy.

Shortly after the raising of the flag, the spectators adjourned to the Town Hall in sufficient numbers to pack it. The assembly was called to order by Warren W. Adams, Esq., chairman of the town committee, and after an able opening address by Chas. A. Foster, Esq., Hon. H. J. Jennings, of Fall River, was introduced. Mr. Jennings delivered an excellent address which was received with applause. He was followed by W. H. Hayward, Esq., of Boston, who kept the audience in good humor until after ten o'clock.

THE LOWRY CASE. Mr. Thomas Lowry, who received injuries last fall by stepping into a hole, where the dirt had been washed out, on Hancock street, near Napanague bridge, brought suit against the town of Quincy to recover damages, and it has been tried before the Superior Court at Dedham at its present session. Mr. Lowry employed William G. A. Patton, Esq., as counsel, who offered to settle with the town for $200. The selection of the jury was deferred $3 a day for as long as the time he was confined to the house; but the offer was not accepted, and the case was decided at Dedham this week; the jury awarding Mr. Lowry $900. John L. Eldridge appeared for the town.

HIS BOYHOOD HOME. Mr. Cornelius Connor, of San Francisco, Cal., is visiting this, his boyhood home. He left Quincy in 1852 to try his luck in gaining a competency in the land of gold. In this he has been very successful, having secured a large fortune. He was a son of the late Michael Connor of this town, and will be remembered by many of our older residents. When the Raymond excursionists visited San Francisco last Spring, the party from Quincy received many attentions from him which contributed greatly to the pleasure of their visit in that locality, as he was able to point out places of interest in that city.

About ten years ago Mr. Connor visited this town, making but a short stay with his friends. He has a wife and children, but they did not accompany him on his trip. While stopping in this vicinity he makes the Parker House, Boston, his headquarters.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. The ladies connected with the Universalist Church will give a Harvest Festival at the Town Hall next Wednesday evening, commencing at half past six, at which time a delicious supper will be served. The entertainment will begin at eight o'clock, which will consist of readings by Miss Belle Cushman Eaton, niece of Mrs. Charlotte Cushman, and music by the orchestra. Useful and fancy articles will be for sale during the evening, also fruit and vegetables. Dancing will be enjoyed by the young people from ten until two, music by Stetson and Cushing's orchestra.

PEOPLE'S COFFEE. The first entertainment was given at the Town Hall, Quincy, on Saturday evening, at which time a large number of people, consisting of singing by the Lotus Glee Club which every one enjoyed very much, whistling solos by Miss Ella M. Chamberlin, who whistles with great ease, which shows that it is perfectly natural, and the favorite humorist, Mr. J. P. Cobb, with Mrs. Cobb as accompanist. The doors were open at half past six and so crowded the pushing and crowding of last year. There was a very large audience present, more than the hall could seat comfortably. This Saturday evening the entertainment will be by the following artists:—Madison Olney, Charles W. Lee, Miss Sarah Peakes and F. H. Peakes.

Season tickets will always be first taken into account.

A PLEASANT EVENING. Can McGreggor gave the lady friends of their order a very pleasant entertainment at their order hall, on Friday evening of last week. The entertainment consisted of songs and recitations by several ladies and gentlemen which were listened to with much pleasure for nearly two hours to the lower hall where a bountiful supper was served in Mr. D. Ford French's best style. Having enjoyed the feast they returned to the hall where a few hours were spent in dancing to the music of Grant's Quadrille Band, till the small hours beyond the twelve, reminding the company that it was time to seek their homes and enjoy "Nature's sweetest rest, balmy sleep."

A PLEASANT TIME. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wild celebrated the sixty-second anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday, by inviting a number of their friends to spend the day with them and share their hospitality. This aged couple are hale and hearty and seem to enjoy the pleasures of this world as much as the young people. They have lived on Washington street ever since their married life began.

PREMIUMS. Among the large number who were awarded premiums and gratuities, at the recent Agricultural and Industrial Fair, held at Weymouth on the 27th and 28th of last month, were the following to gentlemen and ladies in this town:

The wells in this town are quite low, many of them being nearly dry. This scarcity of water makes our citizens anxious to have the water works in operation.

There are still many cases of scarlet fever in town, two of the doctors having over forty cases between them. The case so far have been extremely light.

Mr. Lewis Adams, son of the late Newhall Adams, who has resided in the western States for last twenty-five years is making a visit to this, his boyhood's home.

THIS AND THAT. Work on the Point Bridge progresses slowly and at the present rate of speed. Ferryman Thurber's services will be in demand for a much longer time than two weeks. The ferry fare is five cents.

Mr. I. P. Bent's house is finished outside.

The work on the church is advancing quite rapidly.

On Sunday evening a missionary meeting was held in the Baptist vestry, the room being full. Many interesting remarks and statistics, together with good singing made the hour pass pleasantly.

OBITUARY. The Rev. Calvin R. Fitts, of Quincy, died on Wednesday last of typhoid fever. He had been a resident of this town until a few weeks ago when he removed to Sudbury, where he had received a call as pastor of the Congregational Church. He married the daughter of the late Theodore Traft of West Quincy. His afflicted family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends who mourn his sudden death. His funeral took place on Friday from the Congregational Church, in this town.

CONCERT. The grand musical entertainment which will take place at the Town Hall on Monday evening, for the benefit of the building fund of the Congregational Church at Quincy, promises to be a brilliant affair. The talent secured for the occasion is unquestionably fine, and it is said consists of some of the best ever brought before a Quincy audience, and all lovers of vocal and instrumental music should not fail to be present to enjoy the rich treat offered. It is to be hoped that they will be greeted by a full house.

DECIDED. The case of John McCombie, of Quincy, against James Foster, of Quincy, was decided by the Superior Court last week. The complainant alleged that the cows and horse of said Foster were a source of annoyance to him during the gardening season of 1882-83. That they destroyed a large quantity of cabbages, turnips, potatoes and corn. That defendant had a very insufficient fence surrounding his pasture, and that said Foster refused to pay damages on crops destroyed, or to keep his fence in good repair.

The defendant denied the allegation, and asserted that his fence was in proper repair, and that said cattle were let out at the bars by some evil-disposed or careless person. He also denied refusing to pay damages, and asserted that he was never told of any damage until the suit was brought. The damage was laid at $125. The jury found the sum of $61.14.

A BIG HALL. Burglars made quite a heavy haul at the residence of Mr. F. A. Nickerson, on Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester, sometime during Sunday night. They gained ingress by the aid of a ladder which they placed against the porch over the door, and entered through a hall window of the second story. The rooms were ransacked, even the sleeping apartment of Mr. Nickerson, whose trousers were rifled of a small amount of money and then left in an entryway. The thieves carried off a large quantity of silverware, several gold chains, a number of diamonds, watches, bracelets and other jewelry, all worth between $1200 and $1500.

SECOND COUNCILOR DISTRICT. At a Republican convention held on Wednesday, Hon. Nathaniel Wales of Stoughton was recommended for Councilor from this, the Second District.

District Court of East Norfolk.

The following is an abstract of some of the important cases that have come before the District Court of East Norfolk comprising the towns of Quincy, Weymouth, Braintree, Milton, Randolph, Holbrook and Cohasset, for the years 1882 and 1883—the judicial year ending Sept. 30th. From one to ten cases of almost every crime known in the public statistics have also been disposed of by this court. The amount received from fines and costs for 1882, was $1880.16; for 1883, $3350.39.

It will be noticed that almost double the amount was received the past year, and during the same one previous, and also that the number of cases has augmented largely. Now, what is the reason for this large increase? Are the officers more vigilant, the population much larger, or is crime on the increase? These are questions that need the careful thought of our citizens:

No. of cases, 515	No. of cases, 729
Assault and Battery, 82	Assault and Battery, 108
Larceny, 138	Larceny, 189
Drunkenness, 92	Drunkenness, 129

SHORTHAND INSTITUTE,
E. J. Hunt, Principal.

WANTED—Ladies and gentlemen to learn Pitman's Shorthand, the Pitman Method, the easiest and most rapid of any, and the only one that gives a thorough, practical knowledge of the art.

Shorthand is the best introduction to law, and the most useful of all the languages of the age. It is the key to the great storehouse of knowledge, and the only one that gives a thorough, practical knowledge of the art.

For terms call any evening between 7 and 8
P. M., or address E. J. Hunt, Old Saville House, Hancock Street, P. O. Box 230, Quincy, Mass., Sept. 15.

Quincy Water Company.

The labor on the Quincy water works progresses now very satisfactorily. Over a mile of street pipe has already been laid, and the trouble occasioned by some mischievous makers has passed. Many of the stories reported about the way the Italians were used, are happy to say were untrue. The Contractor's Supply Bureau, who furnished the laborers, and have between 4,000 and 5,000 employed in different places, informs us that the pay they received in Quincy was as much as they received anywhere; that they were not skilled workmen; and for that class of laborers $1.25 per day was considered good pay. Their lodgings were as good, and even better than many of that class occupy; the bread which they are furnished weighed 2-1/4 pounds per loaf, and they are charged 12 cents, which no one can say is exorbitant. There were several other things reported against the contractors, but we are glad to say they do not contain the truth, when examined.

The brick building for the engines, boilers, etc., at the pumping station, is progressing nicely. The well is sunk nearly to its required depth, and the water flows in rapidly.

There is considerable said about town that the street pipe being laid is not so large and good as it should be, and whether it is as large as other towns have used, we are unable to say. We would be pleased to have the contractors give our readers some facts on this point.

Terrible Accident.

A very sad accident occurred last Monday afternoon at the stone quarries of Charles H. Hardwick & Son, caused by a premature explosion, while in the act of blasting a rock, by which two men were terribly injured. The names of these unfortunate men are William H. Blanchard, the foreman of the quarries, and a French man named Edean Adams. Mr. Blanchard sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and had the thumb and part of the flesh on his right arm blown off; his face was also filled with powder, and it is thought probable that the sight of one eye is destroyed.

The other poor unfortunate man was more fearfully wounded. His scalp was dreadfully lacerated, both eyes were destroyed, his right hand and his left arm nearly to the elbow were blown off. He was a complete wreck and death kindly relieved him of his sufferings about 11 o'clock that night.

The poor unfortunate men were conveyed to the Massachusetts General Hospital, in two of Mr. John Hall's carriages. Mr. Blanchard has a wife and one child, and was living in one of Mr. John L. Souther's houses, corner of Washington and Mill streets. Mr. Adams had been working for the Messrs. Hardwick all summer, and is spoken of as a very excellent man. He leaves a widow and seven children, who are residing in Canada, to mourn his shocking and untimely death.

Mr. Charles H. Hardwick, the senior member of the firm, was standing within a few feet of the rock at the time of the accident, and received a very severe shock, not only from the concussion, but from the shocking sight of the two unfortunate men. The rock had been blasted a short time previous, but not splitting it was to be split again, and the men were putting more powder in the seam, where probably a small piece of fuse was smoldering, which ignited the powder and caused this shocking accident.

Mr. Blanchard was living on Friday morning but his case is quite critical.

PEOPLE'S COURSE. All who go to the Saturday evening entertainments praise them, and praise also the public spirit which provides them. They are all excellent, and their influence is good. Ten, to begin with, have been arranged for two of these are past. For the remaining eight, season tickets, eighty cents each, have been sold, and are a convenience, though no cheaper, and always will secure the buyer a place in the hall. The hall's capacity limits the issue of tickets, and season tickets sold will first be reckoned at every issue. It is a very gratifying notice that we announce Miss Condit for the entertainment this evening. She is a reader of unquestioned power. Miss Baldwin, who is a fine singer, will assist her. For programme see Advt. so be obtained where tickets are sold. The week following, the Boston Opera Company will appear in comic opera.

NEPTUNE. As the members of the Fishwick Club, which convened at the house of Mr. C. W. Carter last Wednesday evening, were about to enter upon the programme prepared for the evening, they were interrupted by the simultaneous entrance into the room of Mr. Mr. Norton, by one person, and Mr. Higgins C. Wakelind and Miss Mary E. James by another. The club at once concluded to lay aside their programme and allow these three parties to conduct the exercises of the occasion, which they did in a very entertaining manner and to the delight and satisfaction of all. A most enjoyable evening was passed, the bridal pair leaving for Boston at ten o'clock and proceeding thence to Maine the next day. Mr. and Mrs. Wakelind will take up their residence in Bayonne, near Jersey City.

A NIGHT ACCIDENT. As Mr. Robert E. Townsend's wife was driving his milk wagon on Chestnut street, Sunday morning, the wheels of the wagon on one side went suddenly down into one of the manholes for the water pipes, and it had been sinking up lightly with earth. Nothing serious occurred however and he was able to deliver milk to his customers as usual.

APPOINTMENT. We are pleased to learn that our townsman, Mr. Frederick H. French, has received this week from Washington an appointment to the United States railway mail service. He is detailed for duty between Boston and Albany, N. Y., and will commence his labors on the first of next month.

GRAND RALLY. There will be a grand rally at the Town Hall, Quincy, on Friday evening, by citizens of Quincy opposed to the re-election of Gov. B. Butler. Hon. John Quincy Adams will preside, and addresses will be delivered by Hon. George D. Robinson and Hon. John D. Long. Music by the Union Band. A big time is anticipated. For full particulars see notice in another column.

Brief Locals.

Two new moons this month. Last Sunday was as hot and uncomfortable as an August day. The striking of the fire alarm last Sunday was caused by the atmosphere. We had some refreshing showers Saturday night and Sunday morning. Dr. Samuel Donovan is having his house connected with the telephone office. Please notice the change in the running time of Tisdale's Quincy Point Coach Line.

Gov. Butler is announced to speak at the Town Hall this afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

There are more names on the voting list that begin with M. than any other letter, there being 208.

Have you seen the handsome prints that the Clapp Brothers are selling at 5 cents per yard.

Miss S. H. Hussey has just received her fall stock of new and fashionable millinery.

S. H. Spear & Co. invite the attention of our readers to a fine assortment of remnants of carpets.

Last Monday night there was a partial eclipse of the moon. It commenced at 11:32 P. M., and ended about 1 A. M.

Mr. P. P. Kittredge has some fine Yorkshire and Chester County pigs for sale, also, English, salt and rosen hair.

Read the advertisement of Mr. Charles H. Tilton. He has a very large and choice lot of beautiful lamps to select from.

The Selectmen request all those who are entitled to vote at the coming election to see that their names are on the voting list.

There have been two remarkable occurrences this year; a heavy frost in August and a thunder storm on the 14th of October.

Joseph W. Lombard is to have a large sale of furniture on the 29th instant, as will be seen by referring to another column.

We are informed that there will be an exhibition game of Polo on skates at the close of the evening session at the skating rink to-day.

Mr. Abel Wright's fine house, on Granite street, has been greatly improved in its appearance under the skillful hands of the painters.

Water does not increase very fast in the wells, and our citizens are looking forward with much pleasure to the coming water supply.

Mr. C. C. Johnson returned home this week from his journey to the mountains. Having spent a very pleasant time, traveling in his own carriage.

The Granite Bridge will be closed next Monday for some two or three weeks. The town of Milton are making repairs on the road and bridge.

A two-story building has been raised and boarded this week on Hancock street, for Mr. John Hall. The work is being done by Mr. H. G. Pratt, Jr., in his usual good taste.

The Democrats have taken a room in the Robertson House for their headquarters, and a Butler and Prince flag was unfurled to the breeze yesterday, in front of the PATRIOT office.

The Freshmen of Harvard College played a match game of football with the Adams Academy club last Wednesday, on the Greenleaf street grounds. The Harvards were victors.

Mrs. Thomas Crane, of New York, visited the Public Library, Thursday, and placed on the table a very beautiful bouquet in honor of the birthday of her late husband, Thomas Crane.

The Republicans had a fine meeting at the Town Hall on Thursday evening. E. C. Bumpus, Esq., presided, and able addresses by Hon. Charles W. Stack of Boston and Theophilus King, Jr., were delivered.

The beautiful estate on President's Hill last seen by the late William P. Lunt, and occupied by Everett C. Bumpus, Esq., is being greatly improved by Mr. Edmund M. Littlefield, with two coats of paint.

Auctioneer Lombard sells this afternoon a fine lot of real estate, which is charmingly situated on the Mill street, and would make a fine place for a residence.

Several residences in this town are receiving new coats of paint, among them we notice those of Mr. Joseph Underwood, near the Acad. Lower Mills, and would invite any one desirous of securing a bargain to be present.

We are often asked why it is that the town pump in the centre of Quincy is allowed to be in such miserable condition this season. It is used more than any other, and is a great blessing to the community when in good order.

Charlie, the pet dog of Mr. D. Fred French, died on Sunday last from the effects of poison. Mr. French greatly laments his loss, for he was an uncommonly sagacious animal, and was a general favorite. He would perform many cute tricks by order of Mr. French.

Mrs. Caroline W. Merritt had a very pleasant birthday party at her residence, on Hancock street, on Thursday evening. A sister from Vermont, a brother from Scituate, Mass., and numerous relatives from Quincy composed the company. A splendid social evening and enjoying a fine collation, the gathering separated with many good wishes for their hostess.

REVERE. The town of Revere has voted to pay the Revere Water Company the sum of $3,000 per year for water to extinguish fires. The population of Revere is 2,363 and its valuation $1,971,363.

ASSICES. The recent cattle show at Brockton was the most successful of any the society have ever held. Over 50,000 people entered the gates during the four days, and the receipts were over $12,000. The society expects to realize about $6,000 on the show.

One of our exchanges recently had the following singular advertisement: "Wanted, hands for three handsome, healthy, lively kittens."

For the Patriot.

Quincy Point Items.

On Monday evening the concert in aid of the Washington Street Congregational Church was given in the Town Hall, Quincy, to an appreciative audience of between two and three hundred people. The programme was well arranged, of good length and carried out with good success.

Miss S. Augusta Arnold was received with applause and listened to with great interest. Her voice is a rich contralto, and showed power and great compass. The audience were favored with three songs, the second being an Italian piece by which she won the medal at the Royal Academy of Music, London.

Miss Louise Baldwin, soprano, gave her songs in a most acceptable manner. The Nightingale's Trill being rendered especially fine.

Miss Marion Osgood, violinist, was a favorite, and kindly responded twice to encores.

Mr. Louis Samuels, flute soloist, gave Guise's Mazurka Elegance and Lieder Olme Worte, by W. Popp, with great effect.

Mr. Edward O. Thorndike, baritone, has a splendid voice, and sang exceedingly well. Many have expressed a desire to listen to him again. He will always be heartily welcomed by a Quincy audience.

Miss Alma Faunce accepted an engagement elsewhere, and her place was supplied by Mr. Leon Keach, who proved himself a perfect pianist and accompanist.

All in all the entertainment as a musical one, was a decided success; but not so great financially, the society netting but about $35.

PARTY. On Thursday evening a birthday surprise party was tendered W. Henry Dean by some fifty of his friends. The affair was a complete surprise, but he quickly made all at home, and the musicians kept him busy. One surprise followed another, and Mr. Dean found himself surrounded and presented with a beautiful silver water pitcher from his friends and employers. The presentation speech was neatly made by Mr. Ralph J. Saxe of Boston, and responded to in an appropriate manner by the recipient. Attention being called to the dining room, we found the table most beautifully spread, though the order of things was somewhat changed on retiring. Games and dancing made the time pass so quickly that the clock showed that morning had come all too soon, and good-byes were quickly said, with the wish that many birthdays may be as pleasantly celebrated.

PERSONAL. Rev. Mr. Tyler of North Weymouth preached an excellent sermon, on Sunday morning, in the Baptist Chapel.

Mr. Winslow N. Newcomb had a stroke of paralysis on Friday of last week, which effected his right side. He is quite comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring Phillips were visitors at the Point last week.

Rev. George B. Williams preached for Rev. G. B. Lawton on Sunday last.

E. L. F.

IMPROVEMENTS. The Mitchell Granite Company are making great changes at their granite yard at South Quincy. Additional land has been secured, their sheds extended so as to give room for one hundred workmen. Mr. John Shackley has been doing the carpentering work. A movable engine has been elevated on a track as high as the sheds, for the purpose of taking stones from the cars to any part of their yard. The blacksmith shop has been enlarged and repaired, and will accommodate seven sharpeners of tools. When all the improvements intended are completed they will have one of the largest and best granite yards in town.

VOTERS. Lists of the voters of Quincy, as made by the Selectmen, have been printed this week at the PATRIOT office. They contain the names of 216 persons entitled to vote at the next election. There will probably be 100 more names added to the list before election. All persons entitled to vote should see that their names are on the list, for if they are not registered before 10 o'clock, on Saturday evening, Nov. 24, they cannot vote, even if they have paid their taxes.

FESTIVAL. The Harvest Festival at the Town Hall, Quincy, by the Universal Ladies' Association, on Wednesday evening, was a very pleasant affair. The readings by Miss Eaton was admired and received a generous applause. The autograph quilt, having over six hundred names upon it, was sold at auction by Mr. Joseph T. French, and Mr. Ira Littlefield was the lucky purchaser, at $5.50. The fruit and vegetables were very fine. The music by Stetson & Cushing's band was well appreciated, and a happy gathering passed a pleasant evening.

DANCING SCHOOL. A class for ladies and gentlemen will be opened at Faxon Hall, on Thursday next, by Madame Arcan, who will give instruction in all the fashionable dances. This lady has had large experience in this graceful accomplishment, and her classes in New York City have been composed of the elite who were distinguished of attaining graceful manners and elegance of movements.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION. The Democratic Senatorial Convention of the first Norfolk District was held in Stetson Hall, Randolph, on Monday last, John T. Flood of Randolph presiding, and Thomas Lyon of Canton was chosen secretary. Hon. William A. Hodge of Quincy was nominated for Senator.

MEMORIAL SERVICE. Last Sunday memorial services were held at the Congregational Church in Sudbury, on the death of Rev. Calvin Fitts, late pastor of that church. Rev. George A. Oviatt, a former pastor, delivered the memorial address. The pulpit was draped in mourning on this occasion.

A BIG RIVER. A new geography has been issued at once, the old ones are of no account any more; a new river has just been discovered in Alaska, its length is supposed to be about 200 miles, and in some places it is 20 miles wide.

The fastest time ever made by a horse in harness was that by the pacer Johnstone, at Chicago, recently, beating all previous records by a score of 2.10.

Over $400,000 was expended in the construction of new buildings in New York during the first nine months of the present year.

A Wild Race.

On Tuesday morning about five o'clock, an insane man named John Mahoney, of Quincy, who boarded at the first house south of the Episcopal Church, on Quincy avenue, created considerable excitement in the vicinity. He had been noticed for some days as being somewhat insane, and on Monday night he was locked in to his room, which was on the ground floor; but this did not keep him, as he leaped through a window and ran towards Water street, hollering, without anything on except a nightshirt. The neighbors were aroused, thinking there was a fire, and many got out of their beds. Mr. Mahoney ran into Mr. Tarbox's yard, then in Mrs. Wendall's, and finally into Mr. Joseph F. Berry's. Mr. Berry was up looking out towards his barn, as the insane man ran his head through one of the large panes of glass in the bay window. Mr. Berry seized a chair and prevented his further ingress, when the man turned and went into the street.

Officer Farnall was notified, and proceeded to look him up, and on reaching East Braintree, learned that a person answering his description had been rescued from a rooming at Randolph. On arriving in the morning, Officer Farnall had been taken into custody by Officer Shedd, of that town, about nine o'clock, and locked up. He was brought back to Quincy and placed in the lock-up for safe keeping. His hands were badly cut, probably by the breaking of the windows.

On Wednesday morning, he was brought before the District Court, and sent to the insane asylum at Taunton.

HANDSOME BLOCK. The new block on Hancock street being erected by Mr. G. Fred Wilson, is nearly completed, and makes a very fine appearance. The lower floor, to be occupied by him, will be a grocery and provision store, and will be very convenient for the large business he is doing.

The second floor has some nice rooms in front for offices, etc., and we learn that our young and smart lawyer, Wm. G. A. Pattee, Esq., has secured two for an office. The rear portion of the second floor will be used by Mr. Wilson for store-room for groceries, etc. The third floor has one of the pleasantest halls in town, and we think it will be a good demand.

MUSTERED IN. The Francis L. Southern Camp, No. 20, Sons of Veterans of Quincy were mustered on Monday night last, by Capt. Wilson of Lynn, of Col. Moore's staff, and the following officers elected:

Captain—G. W. Prouty.
First Lieutenant—J. C. Crowell.
Second Lieutenant—E. Munroe.
Orderly Sergeant—A. A. Coolidge.
Quarter Master Sergeant—G. Bent.
Sergeant of Guard—E. Rich.
Chaplain—A. P. Stoddard.
Corporal of Guard—H. B. Richardson.

Conf. Sergeant—L. H. Nott.
After the installation, addresses were made by the officers and others present and then a collation was in order.

CONFERENCE. The sixth annual conference of the Norfolk Conference Sunday Schools will be held on Wednesday next with the Congregational Church in Rockland. At the sessions there will be devotional exercises, reports from Superintendents, addresses and discussions. Invitations are extended to pastors, superintendents and teachers to be present.

Cars leave Quincy for Rockland at 7:30 and 11:45 A. M. Free return tickets will be given to all attending the conference.

CREMATION is rapidly gaining favor in New Orleans. There is no city in the United States where it could be employed to better advantage. The custom there of putting dead bodies in sepulchres above ground must be very detrimental to the public health.

The November number of the North American Review will contain a contribution from Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Company, in opposition to the proposed government management of the telegraph. The question has often been put to me by the public friends of the telegraph. "Do you want any union telegraph?" I have always replied, "But, they say, you can't expect 250,000 people to go to 50,000." There was I reply, only one Abolitionist originally. The whole nation went to him."

AN unfinished figure that has stood for many years in a marble yard facing Capitol Park, in the city of Washington, was intended for an Indian chief, to be placed at the main front of the Capitol. It was finished in 1833, but when half finished a crack was discovered in the stone. It has now been sold, and is to be chiseled down and made a cherub for a child's grave in Greenwood Cemetery. No other case of the deterioration of an Indian into a cherub is on record.

AN OLD COIN. A resident of East Weymouth has a three-penny silver piece bearing the date 1652, and the pine tree emblem. This is a very rare coin. It was dug from a hill of potatoes, the United States is the wealthiest nation in the world, the grand total being put down at $50,000,000,000, or $1,000 for each inhabitant.

JOHN H. PRAY, Sons & Co. would be pleased to have our readers who are desirous of purchasing new carpets to give them a call.

It is said that the largest grapevine in the United States grows on the premises of Mr. Madden in Pike County, Ga. It is eighteen years old, is a square of a mile long, and yields five wagon loads of grapes.

All the Protestant clergymen of Gloucester and Rockport have joined in a protest against raffish and season ticket prices at fairs.

An old gentleman of Wethersfield, Conn., aged ninety, will not drink water. He had the roof of his house slated and for years has used rain-water only.

Dr. Niles of Jacksonville does not understand his well. It is 200 feet above the high-water mark of the Florida coast, is but sixteen feet deep, yields a full supply of pure, cold, fresh water, and yet it rises and falls with ocean tides. He wants it explained.

Rich. According to the census statistics, the United States is the wealthiest nation in the world, the grand total being put down at $50,000,000,000, or $1,000 for each inhabitant.

Principles Liec.

DEAR PATRIOT: Please give your prohibition readers the following answers of Hon. Ferdinand Schumacher to a reporter on the day following the late Ohio election. Mr. Schumacher was the Prohibition candidate for Governor of a party who stood by their colors. Let Prohibitionists in Massachusetts "stick," and another year the Republican wire-pullers will fear and court the aid of the only real enemies of gin-shops, instead of ignoring the temperance issue and crying "anything to beat Butler." Principles lie, while party and names, only, soon pass away.

I understand that the Republicans are charging us with their defeat. I hope they will come to believe it. That is what we intended to do. This talk about our giving the temperance issue is nonsense. We voted them nothing. They submitted the prohibition amendment simply because 157,000 people asked for it. It was not to please our little party, but a popular demand. If, after submitting it, they had given it the slightest encouragement, there would have been ground for complaint. We had taken votes from them; but they were indifferent to us, and passed and advocated a tax bill to which we were not even invited. Gov. Foster, an address last winter, painted the evils of the liquor traffic as vividly as any Prohibitionist could have done it, attributing seven-eighths of all crime to its evils. Had his party been brave enough to live up to that doctrine, they would have had the 15,000 or 20,000 votes that the issue is said to have polled. We beat them last year. We have beaten them this year. We will beat them a third whipping, we were ready to give it.

Do you anticipate a repetition next year of the recent temperance agitation? "Yes; only we will be stronger. Next election we will go backward. We shall carry the issue into national politics, where you will find it asserting its opposition to the proposed government management of the telegraph. The question has often been put to me by the public friends of the telegraph. "Do you want any union telegraph?" I have always replied, "But, they say, you can't expect 250,000 people to go to 50,000." There was I reply, only one Abolitionist originally. The whole nation went to him."

A curious fraud was perpetrated on the officials of the Post Office at Richmond, Virginia, Wednesday, a letter bearing a Confederate two-cent stamp having passed through the mail without detection. The stamp, which was valued by some curious collector as an experiment to see whether it could pass, resembles the new two-cent stamp, somewhat in color but is very inferior in workmanship.

Dr. Niles of Jacksonville does not understand his well. It is 200 feet above the high-water mark of the Florida coast, is but sixteen feet deep, yields a full supply of pure, cold, fresh water, and yet it rises and falls with ocean tides. He wants it explained.

Letter from New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17th, 1883. Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, who arrived in this city several weeks ago, was tendered a formal reception by the New York Bar Association in the Academy of Music, last Thursday evening. The gathering was noticeable for its large attendance of distinguished ladies and gentlemen. After speeches by Elliott F. Shepard, chairman of the committee of arrangements, and Wm. M. Evans, the company adjourned to Nisslen Hall, where a banquet was in waiting.

The ocean steamer which, it is claimed, will make the trip between this country and England a year from now in a little over six days, and therefore more quickly than the Alaska, is the Oregon, which arrived in this port last Sunday. From Queenstown, on her initial trip, she is fitted up with all the modern improvements, including the electric light, and carries engines of a greater capacity than any ever before used on a steam vessel. The Oregon will accommodate over fifteen hundred passengers.

The distinguished Brahmin, Protab Chunder Mookerjee, from India, is making a tour of observation through this country. He lectured last Tuesday evening at the rooms of the Long Island Historical Society, in Brooklyn, on the "Aspects of civilization in India." He spoke for an hour and a half to the pleasure and profit of his audience.

For the past three months the fires which have occurred in Brooklyn have amounted to one hundred and eighty-six, with a total loss of over $300,000. The members of the Fire Department are commended for their bravery and gallantry in saving the lives of fourteen persons from those fires.

Two ferry boats, one of which was loaded with passengers, collided in the North River last Monday evening. Four men were seriously injured. The night was moonlight and very clear, and the accident can only be attributed to the carelessness of one of the pilots.

One of the latest results of the revolutionizing power of

C. H. ROGERS,

Temple Street,
 Quincy, July 21.

Dedication.

The new church, which has been erected during the past year by the Universalist Society of Quincy, on the site where the old one stood for half a century, is completed, and we learn will be dedicated with appropriate services on Tuesday next.

It is one of the handsomest churches in town, both exterior and interior, and has cost about $13,000. Mr. John J. Faxon was the architect and Mr. William Parker, the contractor. The freestone in the auditorium room, executed by Mr. Matthew H. Robinson, is very beautiful and highly creditable to the artist. The society has raised funds among its members and citizens in town, and from friends abroad, enough to pay for most of the one-half of it, the largest contributor being Munroe Crane, Esq., of New York, a native of Quincy, but of late years an enterprising and wealthy merchant of the former city. In his younger days he attended the Universalist Church and Sunday School here, and has always kindly and benevolently remembered the society.

The exercises on Tuesday next will commence at 2:30 P. M. with a sermon by Rev. J. M. Pullman, D. D., of New York City, followed by a prayer of dedication by Rev. Dr. Patterson of Boston Highlands, and an address to the parish by Rev. C. W. Biddle of North Cambridge. In the evening, at seven o'clock, there will be a meeting at which addresses will be delivered by several prominent clergymen.

Quincy Water Company.

This company is meeting with good success at the present time. About 150 Italians are working on the streets, and over three miles of pipe have been laid. The labor at the well has been slow, occasioned by the large quantity of rain which has fallen. The engine has been kept busy, night and day, for two or three days this week, in pumping out the water in the well, but as it is nearly as low as the company intend to dig it, the most difficult part of the labor is nearly completed. The pumping bore, built of brick, is nearly eighteen feet high, the height inside, and will probably be ready for the pump on Monday. The reservoir on Penn's Hill is progressing slowly. We are pleased to learn from a reliable source that the wrought iron pipes being laid are of an excellent quality, and very durable. They are not so thick and clumsy as cast iron pipe, but cost more and are more durable. Some that were laid in Rockland, Ill., twenty-five years ago are today in perfect condition. As to size, we are credibly informed by Mr. Howard, the engineer, that they will average larger in Quincy than in any city or town in eastern Massachusetts.

ACCIDENT. Quite a serious accident occurred last Saturday afternoon at the Harvard boat house, on the Charles river, Cambridge, by which a large number of the rowing clubs of Harvard College were injured, some of them quite seriously. Among this young son of C. Theodore Harwick, youngest son of Mr. Charles H. Harwick of this town, who was struck in the chest by a falling timber, and was quite severely injured. At first it was feared that his injuries were very severe, but we are pleased to say that no serious consequences are now apprehended, and he is quite smart considering the severity of his bruises.

REAL ESTATE SALES. Mr. James D. Taber and Mrs. Marianna E. Taber, his wife, have sold the land on Sea street, Hough's Neck, containing about 100 7-10 square rods, which is known as the "Albion House Lot," to Mrs. Relief Wheeler, for $1200.

Mrs. Relief Wheeler has sold to Mrs. Marianna E. Taber land and building bounded by a street 40 feet wide, Quincy Bay, land of N. B. Pratt, and others containing 48,750 square feet, more or less, at Hough's Neck, for $2500.

ON THE SICK LIST. Mr. Washington M. French, the veteran deputy sheriff of Norfolk County, has been confined to his house the present week, having sustained a slight shock of paralysis on Monday. He being a general favorite with our citizens, great sympathy is expressed for his affliction, and it is hoped that he will celebrate his coming birthday among his numerous friends, and be at the polls and deposit his vote, which he always enjoys so much.

ACCIDENT. Last Sunday night Mrs. Thomas Mulford, mother of Mrs. Albert Keating, was quite severely injured by falling down stairs, at the residence of Mr. H. Keating, in Germantown where she is boarding. She had retired to her chamber for the night, but probably started to go down stairs for something, and made a misstep and fell. A doctor was sent for, who, after a careful examination, found that no bones were broken.

MARRIAGE BELLS. On Thursday morning the marriage of Mr. Henry Lavale and Miss Anastasia Gregory, daughter of the late William Gregory, took place at St. John's Church. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. F. A. Friggiotti, at which ceremony the happy couple were united. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, where many good wishes and congratulations were received for their future welfare.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION. The fall meeting of the Adams Academy Athletic Association will be held on Tuesday next (which, being Founder's Day, is always a holiday) at their playgrounds on Greenleaf street. The usual sports will be indulged in and a general good time will be enjoyed.

NEW BOOK. We have received a copy of the "Salary List and Civil Service Rules," by Henry N. Cogg, of Washington, D. C., publisher, which contains a great deal of solid information which has heretofore been known only to politicians. It is a book of 160 pages and gives the salaries of all the states and territories. The price of the book is only 25 cents.

Brief Locals.

Two new moons this month.

The State election occurs one week from Tuesday next.

Mr. P. McDermott offers to give away gravel to any one wishing it.

A warrant for the annual State election will be found in our columns to-day.

There was an anti-Butler rally at the Town Hall last evening. John Q. Adams, Esq., presided.

On Tuesday next, Joseph W. Lombard sells at auction a lot of household furniture, on Hancock street.

Paul Revere Post, of Quincy, will open a fair at the Town Hall, on Nov. 12th, to continue one week.

Miss S. H. Hussey invites the attention of our lady readers to her well selected stock of new millinery.

Rev. D. M. Wilson preached at the Unitarian church in Hyde Park, Oct. 14, taking his text from Isaiah 28: 10.

A poor woman has lost a twenty dollar bill. Anyone finding it will be rewarded and receive the thanks of the loser.

The weather was quite severely cold on Monday night, and ice nearly a quarter of an inch in thickness was formed.

Mrs. Joseph Carr, who has been spending the summer in Hinsdale, N. H., has returned home, greatly improved in health.

A very large stone is lying across the sidewalk, on Chestnut street, which is very dangerous to the passer-by in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Neidhardt's little daughter has been visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Loud, the past week.

The looks of Mr. S. H. Spear's house, on Granite street, have been greatly improved under the skillful touch of the painter's brush.

Mr. Joseph W. Lombard, it will be seen, has an auction sale on Wednesday next, at the residence of F. W. Perry, on Edwards Hill.

The first meeting of the Shakespeare Club this season was held at the residence of Mr. William G. Sheen, Greenleaf street, on Monday evening last.

The music by the orchestra at the skating rink Wednesday evening was very fine, but owing to the weather there was not a very large number present.

The Cape Cod Bee says: "Mr. Seth Sears of East Dennis has been elected and accepted the position of principal of the Washington school, Quincy."

The Democrats will have a grand rally at the Town Hall, on Monday evening next. Hon. John W. Cummings of Fall River and Jos. J. Kelly will address the meeting.

We learn from the Boston Journal that the house of Mr. George W. Pope, formerly of this town but now a resident of Malden, was entered on Wednesday evening, and $50 in money was stolen.

It commenced raining on Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock and continued during the night and all day Thursday. Cisterns were well filled, but there is no great improvement in the wells as yet.

The attention of our citizens is invited to the advertisement of "Post 88 Fair," which is being given at the house of Mr. C. H. Rogers' store.

The Boston Opera Company will represent with an excellent cast the popular comedy of the Two Buzards, in the People's Course this evening.

Next Saturday evening Mrs. Mary A. Livermore will give one of her brilliant lectures.

The Rev. D. M. Wilson of First Church will preach to-morrow upon the "Oriental Christ," or the conception of Christ held by the Hindu Bramo Samaj as given by Babu Mozoomdar now in this country. The public is invited.

Madam Arcan opened her dancing school at Faxon Hall, on Thursday evening. It was quite a success, and the ladies and gentlemen were delighted with her new and graceful styles of dances. At the close of the term a grand ball will be given at the Town Hall.

Some very fine granite curbing is being set in front of the Orthodox Church this week, and will, when completed, make an improvement to this beautiful edifice. The elm trees on the edge of the sidewalk are to be cut down and the walk to be made more circling, the same as the curbing.

A very interesting game of football took place last Monday afternoon on the Greenleaf street grounds, between the Boston Roxbury School eleven and the Adams Academy eleven. The Academy eleven were defeated by a score of 15 points to 1. Fargo of the Academy played a very good game.

Dr. William Everett was present and displayed great interest in the game.

Miss Hattie M. Pratt of Quincy, accompanied by her cousins, Miss Annie G. Hall of the Highlands and Master Charles A. Hall of Atlantic, have been spending a week with the family of Rev. Wm. K. Hall, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Newburgh, N. Y. They were present at the celebration of Newburgh's Centennial Day. Among the points of interest visited were Washington's Headquarters and West Point.

A PROTEST. A manifesto, signed by a number of well-known and highly respected Democrats, headed by John Quincy Adams, of Quincy, refusing their support to the candidacy of Gov. Butler, has been published this week in all of the Boston dailies.

The suburban Press Association had a very interesting and profitable meeting at the New England Hotel in Boston, on Saturday. The attendance was good and much interest was felt.

Mr. George A. Fletcher, of Milton, took first and second prizes on crows, first bird premium, first prize on better call, and first on bull call at the Brockton fair. He felt so elated that he went to Canada and purchased a herd of three.

E. F. Thayer sells a fine lot of standing wood in Braintree, at auction, on Tuesday next.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. It has been suggested that a clock on the Congregational Church, would be a great addition to the building and a most convenient time piece for all. One suitable would cost about $250 and this amount ought to be easily raised by subscription. Even if those who are connected with the church and society feel that they are contributing all, and perhaps more than they can well afford, to the work now being executed the clock would not doubt be got from outside if the effort was made by some energetic person, for every one would naturally feel an interest in an object of such general use.

The weather here on the church has been gilded the past week. Mr. Lemuel Baxter bearing the expense. His gift is much appreciated.

The church realized $50 by the concert in the Town Hall on the 18th inst., instead of $35 as stated in last week's issue.

THIS AND THAT. Wednesday's storm was the most severe for many months and was a genuine rainy day throughout and warmly welcomed by many whose wells and cisterns are low, some indeed fearing that the ground would freeze before a winter's supply of water was secured.

The river was very rough in the morning and Mr. Thurber did not run his ferry so that those from the Point who worked in Weymouth either went by cars or took a holiday.

A porpoise was seen from the bridge playing about the buoy on Wednesday. There is considerable sickness here still, several more cases of scarlatina reported, but all children afflicted are having it light.

The entertainments in the People's Course are giving good satisfaction, the programme last Saturday evening was excellent and promises to be equally good to-night when the Boston Opera Company will appear in "The Two Buzards."

Obituary.

Quincy Point Items.

The sad news reached us this week of the death of Mrs. Harriet A. Pratt, of N. B. Pratt, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, aged 46 years. Mrs. Pratt was the daughter of Mr. Theodore Kellogg, of New England, and was married to Mr. N. B. Pratt thirty-five years ago. Harriet was a scholar in our public schools, had many dear friends, who will be sorry to hear of her death. From the Advertiser published at New Philadelphia, we copy the following beautiful tribute to her memory:

"The deceased was a graduate of the first-class in the High School in Quincy, Mass. She was the medal scholar of her class, and received her medal from the hand of Charles Francis Adams, Sr. After her graduation she moved to Exeter, N. H., and spent several years in teaching school with great success. Afterward she moved to Cleveland, Ohio, where she turned her attention more particularly to the study of vocal and instrumental music."

"She was an active and energetic member of the Aaron street Presbyterian Church of that city, for quite a number of years, and received handsome presents from the members of the church, the day before her marriage, and shortly before she left Cleveland, for New Philadelphia."

"She was a woman adorned with many virtues and Christian graces, and could but be inexpressibly dear to her family. She leaves a heart-broken husband, a devoted son, and an aged father and mother, who have all the tender claims on our sympathy and prayers."

A very interesting praise service and meeting was held in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening.

A fine concert and entertainment will be given in the M. E. Church soon for the benefit of the new organ fund.

Mr. Henry M. Jewett is now stopping for a few weeks at his old home, and with friends in Maine, for a short vacation.

Last Thursday evening a small party of ladies and gentlemen met at the residence of Mr. Will H. Doble, for the purpose of organizing a debating society. Active interest was manifested by all in this new society, and committees were chosen to furnish laws, constitution, etc. The question decided upon for debate at the next meeting was, "Is ambition a virtue or a vice."

The society has been named the "Apollo Club," and a paper will be written by the members entitled "The Apollo Gazette."

For the Register of Probate, Jonathan Cobb of Dedham.

For County Commissioner, Zachariah L. Bicknell of Weymouth.

For Special Commissioners, John S. Folsom of Medway and George Sanford of Hyde Park.

Commissioners of Insolvency, John Everett of Canton, Signority Butler of Quincy, and B. C. Shaw of Needham.

Messrs. John Everett of Canton, Charles A. Mackintosh of Dedham, W. G. A. Pattee of Quincy, were appointed a committee to confer with a similar committee from Plymouth County in regard to nominating a candidate for District Attorney.

Among those elected for County Committee were Ebenezer W. Underwood of Quincy, and Caleb Thompson of Braintree.

The Second Councilor Convention was held at Dedham on the same day. W. G. A. Pattee of Quincy called for the meeting, and was elected.

Special Entertainments will be provided for each evening, without extra charge. The first of these will be given on Wednesday evening next, with given by the "Patriot Society," of Boston, musical and humorous, with which competent judges who have heard them, say: "We were more than pleased."

There will be a Foreign Exhibition of Art and Manufactures, in the Hall of the Fair, on Tuesday evening next, with given by the "Patriot Society," of Boston, musical and humorous, with which competent judges who have heard them, say: "We were more than pleased."

The welcome rain of the past few days has started the grass, and is also encouraging for the spring, and has for so long been quite dry.

Mr. Frederick M. Jewett met with a serious accident on Tuesday by a piece of steel flying into his right eye, very near the sight. He is attended by one of Boston's best eye-doctors, and it is hoped he may not lose his sight.

Mr. John Cashman has nearly completed his new barn which takes the place of the one recently burned.

A meeting of the delegates from the First Hill Monument Association committee and the West Quincy committee on the Willard centennial memorial, was held on Saturday last at the residence of Mr. Lewis Badger, and it was decided to at once commence the inscription on the granite shaft in Hill cemetery. And also to place a suitable tablet over the tomb where his remains now rest, containing an account of some of the principal achievements of Mr. Willard's life, together with his name as architect and superintendent of the Hill Monument. Mr. Theodore Clare will execute the work in the best manner possible, and all will be pleased to see this lasting tribute to Mr. Willard accomplished.

Worm, Weary, and Wretched.
"As weak as a cat" is an expression frequently used by debilitated sufferers who are trying to tell how forlorn they feel. It is an incorrect expression, for a cat is one of the most agile and vigorous animals in existence. It would be more correct to say, "as weak as a limp old rag," for that gives the idea of utter inability to hold one's self up. The weary person who feels thus is generally worn, worried, and wretched. Sometimes it is a case of overwork, and sometimes of imperfect nourishment. The blood in the system of a person who is "as weak as a rag" is in a wretchedly thin condition. It needs iron to impart richness, redness, and strength. This is to be had by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, the only safe and proper preparation of iron in connection with gentle and powerful tonics. The physician and the druggist can tell the worn and weary how valuable a remedy BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been found in actual every-day use.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.
SATURDAY, OCT. 27, 1885.
A Bad Spell.

She went about with look benign,
And hung her clothes upon the line,
Then called her husband in to dine.
He spoke to her in accents rough,
He disparaged the garden growth,
He was a man of manner gruff.
He said she knew too much to wash,
Why didn't she prepare some hash?
She looked at him and muttered "Fugh!"
She asked: "What can a woman do
To please a cranky male like you?"
Was she a woman to sit dumb,
When he came in with accents gruff?
She would not stand it; no, by gum!
His judgment of good food she doubted,
His grounds of criticism she doubted,
Half mad with rage these words she shouted.
Then, with a look of pain and worry,
The wife arose, and in great dory
Went to her mother's in a hurry.

Farm and Garden.
Dead Leaves and Their Uses.
We very naturally admire growing leaves, and cannot help a feeling of sadness when they wither and fall. A casual look at the fallen leaves gives us the idea that their work is done, and that they are to be cast aside. But those who give more than a passing look find that, though their ornamental life is over, their useful life is but beginning. You pause, perhaps, for a moment, and wonder how these leaves are utilized; but so many varieties are used that it would be impossible to name them all, so we will only refer to the most common. Of these it is only fair to state that many of them are not allowed to wither on the tree, the reason being to preserve a larger amount of the essence of the leaf. For example, the leaves of the tea plant are allowed to grow to a certain stage and are then gathered and dried quickly in the sun. Of course every one who knows that the death of a leaf is usually caused by the drying up of the sap on which it depends for nourishment; so that by forcing the leaves to die more quickly than they naturally would more of the taste or essence of the leaf is retained. And so dead tea leaves are of use to provide Dr. Johnson's favorite beverage, "tea." Of course there are many different kinds of tea, but they are not under our consideration; sufficient is it if you consider that most common of all commodities is simply dead leaves.
Next let us take tobacco as being an article in common use. This plant is a native of America, and is supposed to have been first brought to England by Sir Walter Raleigh, who taught the countrymen to smoke it. The leaves only are used, and great care is taken in its cultivation to bring it to perfection, and the drying and preparing for use is a long and difficult process; but one looking at a cigar, or a pipe, or a cigarette, will not wonder that the tobacco for a moment doubt its being anything but dead leaves.
It would be a long and difficult task to name all the dead leaves which are used by herbalists and doctors; but many of the more simple kinds of the class of leaves known as herbs are of great use in cookery, such as thyme, mint, sage, etc.
Having mentioned these individual leaves, you will probably say these are very few; not a hundredth part of the leaves there are, and granting them to be a hundredth part, what becomes of the ninety-nine kinds left? Many leaves are allowed to drop off the trees and decay to ascertain what the result is when used for manure to enrich the ground that it may bring forth more leaves, which all in their turn will also decay. Then, again it is an acknowledged fact that the decayed vegetation of one century is used for fuel, and the leaves which have died and been replaced go to form a large proportion of our coal.

Temperance.
Furnished for publication by the W. C. T. Union.
Legislative Report.

"But the essential character of this effort to induce a change in the existing law does not differ from those which have heretofore been so often made without success. The subject to which these petitions relate is one which has for many years occupied the public attention. It is one with which every intelligent citizen is familiar; one upon which he has clear and well-settled opinions, founded upon evidence so ample and substantial upon which he is not likely to be disturbed or unsettled by the half-resolved and disputed theories of scientific speculators.
"To those who know that the prisons of the country, as well as the poor-houses and asylums, have from year to year, and from generation to generation, been filled with the victims of intemperance, the speculations of the scientific schools as to whether alcohol is respiratory or plastic food, or, indeed, food at all, seem as but little more than when offered as the basis of intelligent legislation. It has appeared to us that the petitioners, while pursuing these curious and recondite scientific discoveries, guesses, have quite misapprehended and mistated the grounds on which all laws upon the subject under consideration are and should be founded."
"The late most distinguished Chief Justice Shaw, in giving the opinion of the court in a case which arose under the first Maine Law, as it was called, passed in this state in the year 1822, said: 'We have no doubt that it is competent for the legislature to declare the possession of certain articles of property, either absolutely or when held in particular places and under particular circumstances to be unlawful, because they would be injurious, dangerous or noxious, and by doing so to prevent the evils which the abatement of the nuisance and the punishment of the offender, by seizure and confiscation of the property, by the removal, sale or destruction of the noxious articles.' "In another case, arising under an earlier statute upon this same general subject, the same eminent judge said: 'The court rests its decision upon the proposition that to promote the peace, order and security of the community, to prevent the evils of vice, riot, pauperism, and crime, and to secure the government has the right to regulate and control the sale of spirituous liquors, or the places where it is to be sold.'
Household Receipts.
APPLE JELLY Take nice-flavored tart, juicy apples; pare or not, core, cut in thin slices, place in kettle, pour in water to just cover, boil gently without stirring until tender; strain carefully without squeezing, in small quantity at a time, and proceed exactly as in peach jelly—the same amount of sugar. A good plan is to defer making apple jelly until winter, when the apples are in season, and use the specked apples.
DISH FOR DESSERT. A baked omelet is quickly made, and is certain to be light. Heat one pint of sweet milk and put a dessert spoonful of butter in it while hot; wet a heaping tablespoonful of flour in a little cold milk; add smooth beat four eggs very light with it and stir into the hot milk; add almost a teaspoonful of salt. Bake in a pudding dish in a hot oven. This may also be served with sauce as a pudding.
TO PUT UP CRANBERRIES. Cranberries put up by the following receipt will be fit for use in twelve hours, or will keep for months. Wash one quart of berries, put in a bright tin in one-half pint of cold water over a very hot fire. As soon as possible, mash the berries. Have ready one pint of sugar to put in as soon as the berries are washed and set to boil. When the sugar is dissolved, let them boil up once; then turn into a mould previously wet in cold water.
The whole process should not take more than ten minutes. If the light colored berries are used they will be beautiful color, and never fail to be good—the dark ones do not always mould.
Tomatoes are good for the liver. Bad cases of biliousness have been cured by them.
Be sure that you always get the right bottle when about to give a medicine, and be accurate in measuring the dose.—Dr. Foote's Health Monthly.
A writer in one of the medical journals has found the application of a strong solution of chromic acid to a camel's hair pencil, to be the easiest and most effective method for removing warts.
A warning pan full of coals, or a shovel of coal held over varnished furniture will take out white spots. Care should be taken not to hold the shovel over the furniture too long, and the place should be rubbed with flannel while warm.
Conundrums.
How many dog-days are there in the year?—365. Every dog has his day.
How can a man make his coat last?—By making his vest and pants first.
What is that which nobody likes to have or to lose?—A lawsuit.
What is most like a horse's shoe?—A mare's shoe.
What young ladies are most likely to become thieves?—Those who take to steel (steal) buttons.
When should chickens seek the fisheries?—When they go to perch.
How should a romantic miller address his lady love?—In the language of flour, to be sure.
A Sure Sign
That the people are becoming convinced of the absolute value of "Pearl White Glycerine" for beautifying the complexion and the cure of all skin diseases, is the fact of its increasing sale. It is effective and safe, and its application delightful.
For Catarrh the only substantial benefit is obtained through the blood. VEGETINE is the great blood purifier.

Dead Leaves and Their Uses.
We very naturally admire growing leaves, and cannot help a feeling of sadness when they wither and fall. A casual look at the fallen leaves gives us the idea that their work is done, and that they are to be cast aside. But those who give more than a passing look find that, though their ornamental life is over, their useful life is but beginning. You pause, perhaps, for a moment, and wonder how these leaves are utilized; but so many varieties are used that it would be impossible to name them all, so we will only refer to the most common. Of these it is only fair to state that many of them are not allowed to wither on the tree, the reason being to preserve a larger amount of the essence of the leaf. For example, the leaves of the tea plant are allowed to grow to a certain stage and are then gathered and dried quickly in the sun. Of course every one who knows that the death of a leaf is usually caused by the drying up of the sap on which it depends for nourishment; so that by forcing the leaves to die more quickly than they naturally would more of the taste or essence of the leaf is retained. And so dead tea leaves are of use to provide Dr. Johnson's favorite beverage, "tea." Of course there are many different kinds of tea, but they are not under our consideration; sufficient is it if you consider that most common of all commodities is simply dead leaves.
Next let us take tobacco as being an article in common use. This plant is a native of America, and is supposed to have been first brought to England by Sir Walter Raleigh, who taught the countrymen to smoke it. The leaves only are used, and great care is taken in its cultivation to bring it to perfection, and the drying and preparing for use is a long and difficult process; but one looking at a cigar, or a pipe, or a cigarette, will not wonder that the tobacco for a moment doubt its being anything but dead leaves.
It would be a long and difficult task to name all the dead leaves which are used by herbalists and doctors; but many of the more simple kinds of the class of leaves known as herbs are of great use in cookery, such as thyme, mint, sage, etc.
Having mentioned these individual leaves, you will probably say these are very few; not a hundredth part of the leaves there are, and granting them to be a hundredth part, what becomes of the ninety-nine kinds left? Many leaves are allowed to drop off the trees and decay to ascertain what the result is when used for manure to enrich the ground that it may bring forth more leaves, which all in their turn will also decay. Then, again it is an acknowledged fact that the decayed vegetation of one century is used for fuel, and the leaves which have died and been replaced go to form a large proportion of our coal.

Worm, Weary, and Wretched.
"As weak as a cat" is an expression frequently used by debilitated sufferers who are trying to tell how forlorn they feel. It is an incorrect expression, for a cat is one of the most agile and vigorous animals in existence. It would be more correct to say, "as weak as a limp old rag," for that gives the idea of utter inability to hold one's self up. The weary person who feels thus is generally worn, worried, and wretched. Sometimes it is a case of overwork, and sometimes of imperfect nourishment. The blood in the system of a person who is "as weak as a rag" is in a wretchedly thin condition. It needs iron to impart richness, redness, and strength. This is to be had by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, the only safe and proper preparation of iron in connection with gentle and powerful tonics. The physician and the druggist can tell the worn and weary how valuable a remedy BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been found in actual every-day use.

Legislative Report.

"But the essential character of this effort to induce a change in the existing law does not differ from those which have heretofore been so often made without success. The subject to which these petitions relate is one which has for many years occupied the public attention. It is one with which every intelligent citizen is familiar; one upon which he has clear and well-settled opinions, founded upon evidence so ample and substantial upon which he is not likely to be disturbed or unsettled by the half-resolved and disputed theories of scientific speculators.
"To those who know that the prisons of the country, as well as the poor-houses and asylums, have from year to year, and from generation to generation, been filled with the victims of intemperance, the speculations of the scientific schools as to whether alcohol is respiratory or plastic food, or, indeed, food at all, seem as but little more than when offered as the basis of intelligent legislation. It has appeared to us that the petitioners, while pursuing these curious and recondite scientific discoveries, guesses, have quite misapprehended and mistated the grounds on which all laws upon the subject under consideration are and should be founded."

Burglars in Quincy.

On Wednesday night the store of Messrs. Sanborn & Damon on Hancock street, was entered, the safe blown open, and a small amount of money, $10 to $15, was taken. The thieves entered by a window in the rear of the building, and after drilling holes in the door of the safe turned in powder and blew the lock to pieces. The robbers hardly got enough to pay for their trouble.

On the same night, or morning, the office of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, on Washington street, was entered, through the cellar it is supposed, and the desk of the Secretary was pried open; and powder was poured into the lock on the safe door and fired, but with not enough force to blow the lock off. Nothing was taken from the desk, and nothing of value would have been found in the safe, as all money is daily deposited in the National Bank. It is the last place burglars might look for money with any success, as the Company never has kept any money in the building.

The house of the late George W. Taylor, at Wollaston, now occupied by Mr. Walter Whittemore, was entered on Thursday night, about one o'clock. The breaking of the glass woke the inmates, and they had an opportunity to see the rogue leave.

FIRE. About half-past three o'clock, on Tuesday morning an alarm of fire was occasioned by the burning of a barn and out-building on the estate of Miss Beale, on Adams street, near Hon. Charles Francis Adams'. The fire was first discovered by Miss Beale; noticed by the light shining into her chamber. Before an alarm was given the barn was in full blaze; and when the fire department arrived the building was nearly destroyed; although the chamber and Wollaston Chemical answered with unusual promptness. A stable, shed, and corn barn; hay, farm tools, etc., were destroyed, together with a trunk, clothing, money, etc., which were in the barn, belonging to a man who took charge of the place. Loss, estimated at $1200; insured at $800. Cause, incendiary.

NUPTIALS. The marriage of Mr. James Henry Pennington, of this town, to Miss Mary Frances, daughter of the late Hon. F. N. Blair, was solemnized at Plymouth, New Hampshire, Oct. 31. The wedding was strictly private, being witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The presents were numerous and costly. United States Senator Blair came on from Washington for the occasion. The bride is from one of the best known families in New Hampshire, and will be welcomed to this town by a host of friends. They have taken rooms at the Clarendon Hotel, Boston, for the winter.

MARRIAGE BELLS. Mr. Charles B. Tilton, our young and enterprising merchant, was united in the silken bonds of marriage to Miss Lilla M. Magee, at the residence of the bride's parents, on Hancock Court, on Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed in a quiet and unassuming manner, the relatives of both families only being present to witness the ceremony. The young couple having made for themselves a pleasant home, proceeded there and commenced housekeeping at once. May their pathway through life be strewn with blossoms, and prosperity and happiness follow them.

MASONIC. On Thursday evening, November 1, the R. W. M. D. G. M. Balisford made his annual visit to Rural Lodge. An exemplification of work was given.

The arrangements for the coming grand fair by Rural Lodge are progressing finely. Tickets are now for sale.

The annual communication of Rural Lodge was held on Thursday evening, and was largely attended. Albert A. Brackett was unanimously re-elected Worshipful Master. The following officers were also unanimously elected: S. W.—George S. Patterson. J. W.—H. O. Fairbanks. Secretary—Charles H. Porter. Treasurer—L. L. Stearns.

The Worshipful Master elect has appointed as: S. D.—J. Frank Kemp. J. D.—William W. Craig. S. S.—Walter P. Fitch. J. S.—Frank F. Prescott.

The officers will be installed Thursday evening, November 22.

WOLLASTON. It has been thought best to change the Oratorio Society's rehearsals from Wednesday to Monday evenings for the present, as the latter evening is more convenient for many of the members, and the next meeting will be on Monday next at 7.45. A fine new piano has been placed in the hall by the proprietors, Messrs. Bynon & Russell, and a choice variety of music will be offered by the directors, including some of the best part songs, selections from the most popular oratorios, Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise," etc.

WOLLASTON. The Republicans of Wollaston went to the polls in grand style on election morning. They hired the services of the Union Band, and 125 strong marched with martial music and in grand parade to the Town Hall. On a banner which they carried were the following words: "On the front of the banner read 'Solidarity'."

And on the reverse: "No Butler in our camp."

With a large black cross painted on the center of the banner.

PATRIOTIC. We learn that Mrs. George T. Higdon, a wealthy lady of Quincy, offered the Republican Town Committee her horse and carriage if needed, to carry voters to the polls to defeat "Old Ben."

An effort is being made by parties outside the University, Church and living in its neighborhood, to raise a sufficient sum of money by subscription to place a clock in the spire of that church. We learn that about $350 is required and that Mr. Benjamin F. Curtis has headed the paper with $50. Miss Floretta Vining is soliciting subscriptions, which is sure to make the effort a success. One-half of the required sum has been subscribed.

THANKSGIVING. The Governor has appointed Thursday, the 29th inst., as the day to celebrate this festival.

Brief Locals.

The Grand Army Fair opens on Monday evening next.

Thanksgiving is quite near; three weeks from last Thursday.

Two girls have advertised in this week's PATRIOT for situations.

Quincy cast 2054 ballots on Tuesday—the largest vote has ever given.

Mr. Daniel Baxter offers some excellent wood land for sale in Quincy on easy terms.

The work of Mr. John Hall's new building on Hancock street, is progressing finely.

Mr. William D. Webb left on Wednesday for Europe, on a business tour for Messrs. Jordan, Marsh & Co.

John R. Graham sold a good cow on election night. The finder will be rewarded by giving him information.

"Amusements" will be the subject of a lecture given at the M. E. Church, Wollaston, next Sabbath evening.

It will be seen by Dr. Small's card on the first page, that he has removed his Boston office to Tremont Temple.

The weather has been unusually fine the present week; many of the days having a decided taste of Indian summer.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson will deliver a discourse to-morrow on "Luther, the man and his work." The public are invited.

A buggy containing two men was overturned Tuesday afternoon on Hancock street, by cramping the wheels in a rut.

It is expected that Governor Butler will be present at the opening exercises of the Grand Army Fair on Monday evening next.

Mrs. D. M. Harburt, of San Francisco, Cal., has our thanks for her thoughtful kindness in sending us California papers.

An excellent letter from our New York correspondent was received to-day for insertion in this week's issue, for which we are truly sorry.

There will be a conference of visitors of the Associated Charities Tuesday, Nov. 13th, at 3 P. M., in the School Committee's Room, Town Hall building.

The meeting of the F. F. F.'s has been postponed to Wednesday evening of next week, and will then be held at the residence of Mr. Frank F. Prescott.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Wollaston is to hold a course of five entertainments, commencing on Wednesday next, and continuing each Wednesday evening until Dec. 19th.

This Saturday evening an entertainment by the "Ideal Concert Company," and next Saturday evening one by the Park Concert Company, keep up the excellence of the People's Course.

An Italian at work at the Quincy Station on Thursday, in handling the iron water pipes, got his right hand badly crushed, and Dr. Sals was obliged to amputate two or three fingers.

An old subscriber says: "Everyone ought to be their own judge in regards to giving; if he is honest to himself, and has plenty of this world's goods he will give liberally without doubt."

The pews in the new Universalist Church will be let next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the church. Parties desiring to rent whole pews will have an opportunity to bid for choice of location.

A project is on foot to have a night watchman to guard the buildings on our principal streets from the depredations of burglars. It is certainly something that all concerned should take an interest in.

Read carefully the advertisement of the "New Era Coffee." This coffee is said to be a very healthy beverage, and can be used by persons who cannot drink tea or coffee.

The Brantine Military Company, which has a number of members in this town, held its first assembly at the Town Hall, Brantine last evening. Porter's Band, of Brockton, furnished the music.

It is eleven years ago to-day since the great fire in Boston, which destroyed so much property, and cost so many out of employment, and where by a great many of our citizens were heavy losers.

The setting of the curbstone around the grounds in front of the Congregational church does not progress very rapidly. The sidewalk is obstructed by the mounds of earth, and a very neat appearance. Cold weather will catch them napping, if they are not careful.

Next Sabbath the Congregational Church will join in the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther. Sermon in the morning upon Luther and the Reformation, and in the evening addresses upon the same.

At the Court of Insolvency held in Dedham on Wednesday, a second adjourned third meeting was held, in the case of Jesse P. Weymouth, of Quincy, an adjourned third meeting was held. No dividend was declared and he was discharged.

Mr. Obed Allen and wife left their old home in Germantown, on Thursday last week, for Florida, where they will probably pass the remainder of their days enjoying the comforts of life with their only daughter, Mrs. William A. Emerson, who has resided in Florida for the past three years.

The dancing school at Faxon Hall which is held every Thursday evening under the management of Madam Arcan, is meeting with great success. New pupils are joining every evening, and an excellent opportunity is offered for those who wish to become graceful and pretty dancers. There are now about twenty-four members.

An entertainment was held in the chapel of the Congregational Church on Thursday afternoon, for the children between the hours of four and seven. A general good time was enjoyed by them, and everything was done to their pleasure. It is hoped that these entertainments will occur often during the winter, as they are instructive as well as entertaining.

THE QUINCY VOTE.

Quincy Point Items.

DEATH. Lizzie F. Harris, daughter of James M. and the late Ruth Harris, died on Monday, at the age of sixteen, a victim of that dread disease, consumption, after an illness of some six months. She was a member of the class of '84, Quincy High School and is the second, death being claimed by her, both being from the Point district. She was also a member of the Congregational Sunday School. Funeral services were held on Thursday and were largely attended. Rev. Edward Norton officiating.

Among many beautiful flowers sent by friends was a piece from the class of '84, a floral book with the words, "Our classmate" on its open page.

She will be greatly missed by all, and the family have the heart-felt sympathy of her many friends in their affliction.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Geo. B. Lawton has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist Church and will preach his closing sermon Sunday.

Mr. Lawton will retain his residence here for several months, but will preach in Billerica.

Joseph E. Thomas spent the first of the week at home returning to Shelburne Falls on Tuesday.

On Thursday evening a surprise party was given Henry P. Kittredge by some forty of his friends. The affair was a complete surprise, and the time passed pleasantly in games and singing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright arrived home on Wednesday from West Free-man, Maine, where they have resided the past seven months.

SHIPPING.

Arrived, Nov. 2d, Schooner John Stroup, Capt. Sturgis, from Philadelphia, with 370 tons of coal for Cyrus Patch.

Nov. 3d, Schooner Orion, Capt. Clever with 62,000 lbs of lumber for S. Graves. E. M. F.

Spaulding's Bell Rings will give one of their interesting comic concerts at the Temperance Hall, Wednesday evening next.

An "old folks" concert will be given in the M. E. Church next Tuesday evening. The programme will be of unusual merit. Among other attractions will be the costumes of the old time, which will be worn during the evening. A large number of tickets have already been sold, and the affair promises to be a grand success; the funds will go toward paying for the fine new organ lately placed in the Church.

At painting on plaque, umbrella racks, &c., is quite popular here at present.

Mr. Fred Badger is getting along finely and it is hoped he may yet save his eye-sight.

Mr. Reuben Townsend had a narrow escape from what might have proved a serious accident, — while loading stone on a car. A stone slipped, and he escaped with severe bruises which will confine him to the house for a short time.

The "Apollo Club" is getting more interesting each successive week, and the lively subjects of debate, are bringing out many fine points which will be cherished by all. The "Gazette" written by its members deserves much credit, and is "rich, rare and racy."

Mr. Robert Smith is erecting a house on the corner of West and Cemetery street.

The Poll Tax Qualifications.

DEAR PATRIOT: Your correspondent "Quincy" has added his mite to the "anything to beat Butler" cry, which for this time has succeeded in carrying the old Bay State for the Republican party. He says he is glad to have the poll tax qualifications remain upon our statute book. Of course he is. Restrictions and qualifications, — everything that can possibly put a man from acquiring the right of suffrage, or hamper a voter in the exercise of that right, has been the policy of the Republican party. This is only one of the methods which that party is using to centralize the control of the government into the hands of a few, and depriving the people of the influence in the State which belongs to them.

Quincy "uses the usual Republican tactics of telling half the story. Butler never recommended the abolition of every poll tax. Every man who can pay a poll tax ought to do so, and if a man is not willing to pay what "Quincy" calls his mite, he should be compelled to. But the policy of the Republican party is, and has been, to let the poll tax go uncollected, for reasons well known to the party leaders.

"Quincy" tells you readers that every southern state except Virginia, has a poll tax. This is true. But the inference he wishes people to draw from it—that every southern state, but Virginia, has a poll tax, and that, therefore, the states of Georgia and Tennessee, are the only states in the South that require a poll tax as a qualification for voting. Rhode Island requires a registration tax. Delaware, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, are the only states requiring a state or county tax as a qualification for voting. "Quincy" could have seen this in House document No. 52, of last session, but he did not care to make too close to the facts. "Anything to beat Butler."

This question of qualifying the right to vote is not a new one. It has been two sides to the question. The people of every nation that has had an opportunity of expressing an opinion on the subject, have taken Butler's side; the tyrants and oppressors of the poor have all invariably taken the view adopted by "Quincy" and the Republican party.

The Republicans have defeated Butler this year, but the people of Massachusetts are beginning to investigate, and are finding out that professions of liberality is a very different thing from practicing it. This poll tax qualification is one of the parties of indictment against the party who are right in calling it a relic of barbarism which has been here for centuries. There are two sides to the question. The people of every nation that has had an opportunity of expressing an opinion on the subject, have taken Butler's side; the tyrants and oppressors of the poor have all invariably taken the view adopted by "Quincy" and the Republican party.

Strike at the Bottle.

A nervous and disease-stricken old gentleman was sitting in his room on an easy-chair, his physician being at his side.

Said the old gentleman, "Now, doctor, you have been treating me for a long time, and haven't done me much good. I'm tired of all this. I want you to strike at the root of all my disorders."

Said the doctor, "Do you mean exactly what you say?"

"To be sure I do," said the venerable invalid.

"Well, here goes!" said the doctor—and with one whack of his cane he broke to pieces the brandy-bottle which stood on the mantel.

The old gentleman was angry and excited, but he had a good answer ready for the doctor's rebuke. "Doctor, if it hadn't been for your doctrine, I never would have got into the habit of drinking."

Play on Your Own Side.

The following thoughts were suggested on hearing a little boy in Boston reply to the question: "Why don't you play on your own side?"

I am so poor, I have no side.

And no good place to play.

Unless I go with boys too bad—
Such dreadful things they say.

They are so wicked and profane,
And say such nasty things.

If I should go with them I fear
I'd do some awful thing.

And what if they should come one hurt
That might be very bad.

Oh, then what would I do?
If they should fall and die?

These little boys with me today,
I like them very much.

They do not swear, nor falsehood tell,
And share with me their lunch.

They are not poor, as I am, though They say I'm not to blame.

They always want to play with me,
And like me all the same.

My folks live in an attic now,
Our father died a while ago.

To buy us our very food,
Our mother works for her bread.

I hope that I can help her soon,
If I am true and good.

I will not go with boys that swear,
And wicked falsehood tell.

I fear that I might sometime go Within a prison cell.

My story, lady, I have told,
We will not here remain.

If we have done you any harm
We will not come again.

Farm and Garden.

Thanksgiving Turkeys.

It is but a few weeks that Thanksgiving, the season for fat turkeys and other poultry. Generally farmers do not prepare in a proper way their turkeys for market. Neither turkeys or chickens are fit to eat taken right from the barn-yard, matured, or from following after fattening cattle. Fowls particularly of the food they eat in taste and smell. This is well illustrated by the popularity of the canvass back ducks in the neighborhood of Baltimore and Washington. In that region there is a large quantity of wild celery, which this variety of ducks eat, and it gives their flesh that peculiar flavor, which makes them so popular with the lovers of canvass-back ducks. It is only in that particular region or in other places where the wild celery grows, that these ducks are any better than other choice kinds. Turkeys, chickens, geese and ducks can have their flesh flavored with celery, or any other highly flavored articles which they will eat. So can they be flavored with the droppings of cattle or other domestic animals. No poultry, for ten or fifteen days before being killed, should be allowed to eat anything impure in taste or smell, if you would have delicious eating.

Some time before taking to market turkeys for Thanksgiving, season the pu in a clean enclosure, and feed on clean, rich food, and pure water, or sweet milk. Then they would be fit to eat, and persons who could have their highly flavored articles which they will Change of Time.

To-morrow, Sunday, at noon, the standard time for running all trains in New England will be changed, to conform to the eastern standard time then to be adopted by the Cambridge Observatory, and generally by all the cities and towns of New England, Canada, etc.

The clock that has stood in the steeple of the old stone church in Quincy for years, will then, by direction of the Selectmen, be set back sixteen minutes to conform with the new time adopted by the railroads. All our citizens will have to regulate their clocks and watches to conform to this new time, and the city clerks and mechanics will have an opportunity of lying in bed sixteen minutes later than they have been in the past.

Some may ask why this change is made. If we understand rightly, it is to accommodate railroads and all that travel great distances on railroads. As it is now, a person starts from Boston, Mass., for Richmond, Va. As he proceeds on his journey, he finds his watch is not on time with those in the towns and cities he passes through; at New York his watch is 12 minutes fast; in Philadelphia, 10 minutes; in Baltimore, 22 minutes; in Washington, 24; in Richmond, 26. — Nov. 17, 1883.

West, Nov. 17, 1883, according to this new time to be adopted to-morrow, Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, all the principal cities in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Savannah, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., St. Augustine, Fla., will have the same.

To have the time the same in all these places this change has got to be made. Here we are obliged to move our clocks back 16 minutes; in New York, 4 minutes; in Philadelphia, it will require no change; in Washington the hand will be moved forward 8 minutes; Richmond, 10 minutes; and so on.

We shall all probably soon get used to the change, and will not mind it in the least. The to-morrow will be sixteen minutes longer from sunrise, and in the afternoon, which is about short enough now, the sun will set about sixteen minutes earlier. The old Farmer's Almanac for 1884, which has already been printed, will be easily out of joint with the time the sun sets, and the time of the moon, and the time of full sea. By referring to our advertising columns it will be seen that J. R. Kendrick, General Manager of the Old Colony Railroad, has issued a notice on the change of the standard time, which is to be made to-morrow.

Quincy Water Company.

The Water Company are having nice weather for their labors, and are pushing their works along in a very satisfactory manner. The Company intend to have pure water running through its pipes within three weeks.

The reservoir is progressing nicely. It is situated near Franklin street on Penn's Hill, and a few rods from the Braintree line, the most elevated piece of land in the southern part of the town. The property was owned by Mr. Chase Parker until purchased recently by Dr. Faxon for the Water Company. There are two or more acres in the lot, and it is a level and pretty piece of property, except about one-quarter of an acre, which is rocky and uneven, and the large granite boulder or ledge, which has held its face up to the rough weather for ages, was known as "Lookout Rock." It is so elevated that nearly all parts of Quincy and some portions of Weymouth, Braintree, Hingham and Randolph can be distinctly seen from it, and some twenty-five church steeples counted. The face of the rock has been leveled and the base of the reservoir resting upon it is as high as the chimneys and the house of the late Rev. Wm. P. Lunt on President's Hill.

The wrought iron sheets that are used in the construction of the reservoir are about six by eight feet square, and half an inch thick, and are thinner higher up. The reservoir is 35 feet in diameter and 60 feet in height, and will hold 430,000 gallons of water, or about one day's supply. It is estimated that 34,000 rivets will be used in its construction. The outside will be painted a reddish brown, and will not be protected with brick as some have supposed. The inside is to be covered with something to prevent it from rusting. The top will be left open for the present, and the wild geese as they pass over, a chance to quench their thirst. The bottom is of iron and has three perforations; a large one for the water to pass in and out, and two smaller ones, one at the top of the surplus water and the other for cleaning out such leaves and dirt as may collect inside from time to time.

The reservoir being sixty feet high and on elevated ground it is believed there will be force enough to throw a handsome stream of water over any house in Quincy, without the aid of any power from the engines of our Fire Department.

At the pumping station at South Quincy the building for the engines and pumps is nearly completed and the dwelling for the engineer and family is raised and has been covered with a good pitched roof. A large chimney, sixty feet high, has been erected this week on the southern side of the engine building.

We learn that a Quincy boy, Mr. Eliza T. Spear, a brother of our worthy Town Clerk, has been engaged as Engineer, and will reside in the building. He is now busy employed in placing supply pipes in dwellings, and has nearly one hundred orders.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. On Thursday morning three men, named James Morrison, John Lee, and Stanley Tibbets, employed at the quarry of Messrs. Churchill & Hitchcock, on Quarry st., West Quincy, were severely injured while trying to drill out an old charge of powder. Morrison, who was holding the drill, had his right hand blown off, and his left wrist terribly lacerated, and the other men were badly burned about the face. Dr. J. H. Gilbert was called, and attended to the dressing of their wounds. Morrison was conveyed to the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, and Lee and Tibbets to their homes. It is about time that quarriesmen were lost by Monday's gale on Lake Michigan; they lost eight men and were lost on Long Island Sound; a small steamer was sunk in Lake Winnebago; and the Summit House on Mount Kearsarge was demolished.

Attention is directed to notice of change of standard time, which is to be made on Monday, the 19th inst. The running time of the trains will be sixteen minutes slow of the present time. Those who are now obliged to leave for Boston on the five o'clock train will find the train to be sixteen minutes slow of the present time.

We would call the attention of our citizens to a notice posted on Rogers' street, South Quincy. It informs the passer that a pocket-book has been lost, containing money and some valuable papers, and that the finder can have the money if he will return the papers. This being a very liberal offer, we should judge the finder would be pleased to accept it.

The entertainment given at the vestry of the Universalist Church, on Wednesday evening, was a very pleasing affair. The whistling solos by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Litchfield were most excellent, and received the hearty applause of the audience. The humorous recitations of Mr. Straus were much appreciated. Between the two artists, an hour was very pleasantly spent.

On the 26th ult., Mr. Frederic S. South, of Weymouth, was killed by a horse, which measured seven feet and eight inches, and weighed 400 pounds. Mr. South was assisted by Messrs. Walter Burdell and Thomas Lenton in driving him ashore on the beach of Broad Creek. Mr. South was shot into his several times, and after he was ashore, Mr. Burdell put a pistol ball through his head. A large number of Mr. Straus were much appreciated. Between the two artists, an hour was very pleasantly spent.

Morrison, who was holding the drill, had his right hand blown off, and his left wrist terribly lacerated, and the other men were badly burned about the face. Dr. J. H. Gilbert was called, and attended to the dressing of their wounds. Morrison was conveyed to the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, and Lee and Tibbets to their homes. It is about time that quarriesmen were lost by Monday's gale on Lake Michigan; they lost eight men and were lost on Long Island Sound; a small steamer was sunk in Lake Winnebago; and the Summit House on Mount Kearsarge was demolished.

Two vessels and eighteen lives were lost by Monday's gale on Lake Michigan; they lost eight men and were lost on Long Island Sound; a small steamer was sunk in Lake Winnebago; and the Summit House on Mount Kearsarge was demolished.

Quincy Point Items.

On Sunday last, Rev. Geo. B. Lawton preached his farewell sermon. His text was from Galatians, 6th chapter and 9th verse: "Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap if we faint not." It was a most able discourse. Mr. Lawton has been pastor of the First Church for some six years, and during that time has been a most zealous worker. When he first took charge services were held in a hall, but a little more than three years ago the chapel was built and is a model of convenience. He goes to a church in Billerica.

Rev. Fred E. Dewhurst of Wollaston will preach at the Chapel on Sunday afternoon.

POINT BRIDGE.

The work on the Point bridge has been completed the past week, and the pedestrians and teamsters are delighted to have the use of the same once more. The contract was awarded Mr. Whitman at $4,900, and the work has been done in a most thorough manner, with many improvements. The draw is the same width as the bridge, gives an opening some three feet wider than the old one, and is built with the rise. A small fender on either side of the draw has been added, and the top work is equal to any in the State.

SHIPPING.

Sailed, Nov. 9th, Schooner Taylor & Mathis, Captain Wharton, with granite from Barker.

Rev. George B. Lawton entertained his Sunday School at his home on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Jos. A. Collier, who has been visiting several months past has been traveling through different parts of Europe, has returned home greatly benefited in health.

Mrs. Jacob Hersey and Miss Emma Hersey returned to their home at the Point on Wednesday. They have passed the last six months at the Centre.

WATER PIPES.

The laying of the water pipes in this part of the town has been completed this week, as is noticeable by the ridge of earth running the length of Washington and South streets. This leaves the road in rather a bad condition, especially at this time of year when the chances are that it will freeze before settling at all. On Wednesday evening a buggy was tipped by striking into it, and Mrs. Taylor and daughter were thrown out. Although no serious injuries were received, both were considerably bruised. E. M. F.

Grand Army Fair.

The Grand Army Fair which has been in progress all this week at the Town Hall, Quincy, under the auspices of Paul Revere Post, has been a grand success; in fact, the most successful of any ever given by this Post. The net proceeds are estimated at $2,000 to $3,000.

Monday was the opening night, and the hall was packed to its utmost capacity. Gov. Butler was announced, but did not put in an appearance; but other able speakers were present.

After a selection by the band, Rev. R. T. Sawyer invoked divine blessing, and the fair was formally opened by addresses by Department Commander, George S. Evans, Col. L. B. Richmond, of Freetown, Capt. C. C. Emery, of Boston, Col. Charles F. King, of Somerville, and others. A bountiful collation was served to the speakers and guests in the lower hall. The interior of the Town Hall was beautifully trimmed with bunting, banners, corbels, and flags.

Last evening the names of those who died in the war were announced. The gifts were valued at $1439. Next week we will endeavor to give our readers a list of the receivers.

The need of a much larger hall has been most severely felt throughout the week, and it is believed the town will take some action at the next annual March meeting to see that our citizens are better accommodated.

FIRE. The alarm at 12:25 on Monday night, from the 64, was for a fire at Squantum, which completely destroyed a large frame building owned and occupied by John Nolan, and used by him as a boarding-house. Connected with the house was a shed and small barn, which were also consumed.

Mr. Nolan reports that he is insured for $2,000 in the London Insurance Company, and that his loss will exceed that amount.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it probably resulted from a defective flue. The wind blew a gale at the time, and it is fortunate that the temporary sewer, which is constructed of wood, did not ignite from the many sparks that fell about it.

C. W. Litchfield, who was in the crowd that gathered about the fire, reported that the fire was caused by a defective flue, and that the fire was caused by a defective flue.

At 9:30 the same night, a chimney on fire in Newbury street, caused quite a scare to the people in that vicinity. Owing to the want of a roof ladder the fire burned quite a while, but was finally extinguished by members of the engine company and citizens, without giving an alarm.

THE FOREIGN EXHIBITION. This exhibition in Boston will be kept open a few weeks longer. Our readers will find it still one of the most interesting and instructive exhibitions ever held in this country. An especially attractive feature is the Japanese section, which is remarkably fine, the art contributions being of a very superior character. A gentleman connected with the Fine Art Museum has expressed the opinion that the art portion of the Japanese exhibit is superior even to the art contributions from other countries including many fine exemplifications of foreign arts and industries. Gilmore's Band gives a grand concert every afternoon and evening, and other musical attractions are provided from time to time. The exhibition is open from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY. Mr. H. H. Faxon has again generously remembered the Wollaston Oratorio Society with a check for $25, which will be greatly appreciated by the members. The first of the monthly musical evenings, December 1st, in Wollaston Hall. Associate membership tickets can be procured of the directors.

Associated Charity Items.

A man with a wife and several small children to support wants work. He has been sick and is quite destitute; he was injured in the quarries and cannot do hard work, but he has a horse and cart and can do such work as goes with them. He is said to be temperate, honest and industrious. Any one having work to give him will please address "Associated Charities."

About two weeks ago a woman with some unsightly ailment went about the town exciting sympathy, and on the strength of it begging. She obtained in the aggregate quite a sum of money. Where she came from she would not tell, nor give her name. Probably she made a raid upon Quincy from Boston or some neighboring town. Money given in this manner is thrown away, and worse. Give only after you have found out there is need, and if you have no time to find out, refer the case to a visitor of the Associated Charities, or the Overseers of the Poor. If you feel called upon to give, let your giving be of food not money.

Wollaston Lecture Course.

The first lecture in the course of six entertainments in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Wollaston, was delivered before a fine audience on Wednesday evening, by Rev. C. P. Lyford, of South Boston. His subject was "Utah and the Mormons."

The speaker handled this "peculiar people" without gloves, portraying in eloquent language the horrors and the New York Central R. R. six to eight inches of snow fell. This sudden change was followed on Tuesday by the coldest wave which has passed over this vicinity this season.

The steamer Tallahassee, from New Orleans, entered her pier on Sunday evening with the contents of her hold in flames. The fire was discovered when about three hours out, and the men into port was made as quickly as possible, despite the fog and regardless of quarantine regulations. She carried thirteen passengers and a large quantity of cotton, the former of which were safely landed before eleven o'clock p. m. The damage to the vessel itself is slight.

A curious case of fatal poisoning, supposed to be the result of bites from snakes, is now being investigated by many physicians of Brooklyn. One of a family of six children, two have died and two others are very ill. The doctors are puzzled as to how to account for the mysterious fatality.

Four hundred and thirty persons were present at the fourth annual meeting of the New England Society, which was held at the Brooklyn Art Building this week. Benjamin D. Stillman, of Brooklyn, made the opening address, and was followed by Judge Calvin E. Pratt, a native of Massachusetts. It claimed that there were more New Englanders in Brooklyn than there are in Boston.

At the various hotels in New York there are now registered several distinguished guests. Among them are Senator Joseph R. Hawley, Judge Henry E. Packer, Col. Alexander Montgomery, U. S. A., Gov.-elect McLean, of Maryland, and Peter Hyatt, of New York.

The Rev. Dr. O. H. Tiffany, formerly pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, preached the inaugural sermon in his new church, on Madison avenue, last Sunday morning. The building is only just completed, and cost $250,000, and part of which has been already raised. The dedication will take place next Sunday.

FATAL ACCIDENT. Mr. Calvin Howland, of Stoughton, well known as a house painter and anticleric, fell from a staging Monday, at Canton, and was instantly killed. During the agitation among the Reform Clubs of this State, a few years since, he visited Quincy several times and spoke with much enthusiasm to members of the order.

Discharged on payment of costs.

Michael Donovan, of Weymouth, for being drunk; fined $1 and costs.

THE F. F. F.'S. The annual meeting of this association was held on Wednesday evening, at the residence of Mr. Frank E. Prescott, and a greater number of members were present than at any previous meeting.

The election of officers for the ensuing year it was thought appropriate as it would be leap year to have a young lady for President, and consequently Mrs. S. A. McFarland was chosen.

At the office. The remaining officers were filled as follows:—Vice-President, Mr. H. W. Spear; Secretary, Mr. Frank E. Prescott; Treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Corlies.

It was voted to hold the annual reunion as usual, the date for which was left with the directors, but it will probably be held the last of December, or in January. The parties of the F. F. F.'s have always been successful and enjoyable, and the coming reunion will be no exception.

ARRESTED. Last Saturday night Cornelius Ford, of Quincy, was arrested and placed in the lock-up in this town, charged with being out of the party of the members were present.

Letter from New York City.

NEW YORK, NOV. 14, 1883.

The 10th inst. being the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther, sermons concerning him and his work were preached last Sunday in almost every Protestant church in this city and vicinity. The Lutheran churches in particular, held special services, a grand union gathering, at which all the exercises were carried on in German, assembled in Steinway Hall in the evening. Tuesday evening the United States Evangelical Alliance commemorated the great reformer's birth at the Academy of Music, in an appropriate manner. The house was filled to overflowing, and from fifteen hundred to two thousand people went away from the doors without gaining admittance. It is said that in all the great political meetings and other large gatherings which have been held in this hall there was never so large a crowd.

Rev. Dr. Taylor, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle Church, held the first regular address, and his remarks were received with hearty applause.

The Oratorio Society, under the lead of Dr. Damosch, rendered very fine selections from Mendelssohn and Rubinstein, together with Luther's great hymn "Ein feste Burgist unser Gott."

A very high wind prevailed in this city on Monday, accompanied by snow squalls and rapidly falling barometer. Several unfinished buildings were blown down, and along the river the New York Central R. R. six to eight inches of snow fell. This sudden change was followed on Tuesday by the coldest wave which has passed over this vicinity this season.

The steamer Tallahassee, from New Orleans, entered her pier on Sunday evening with the contents of her hold in flames. The fire was discovered when about three hours out, and the men into port was made as quickly as

ES— Our lives should be like the days,
More beautiful in the evening; or, like
The spring, aglow with promise; and,
Like autumn, rich with golden sheaves,
When good works and deeds have Reaped on the field.

Thanksgiving.

To-morrow is the day we have been invited by our President and Governor to celebrate as our Thanksgiving. It is a day that all New Englanders know how to enjoy and appreciate. It is the day when all, who can, gather around the family hearth-stone, and enjoy the love and affections of the household.

In our Thanksgiving we should remember that all people have not prospered alike; that some are poorer than others are richer. Let all who have been more fortunate than their neighbors, remember them on this occasion. Do some little act of kindness to make the day one of thanksgiving to all. Nothing is more pleasant than helping the poor and needy. We wish all our readers a generous festive board on this occasion.

Our Streets.

The heavy rain on Monday night caused many of the trenches recently dug by the Quincy Water Company and filled in loosely with gravel, to become mere mud holes, and a large number of mishaps occurred to teams on Tuesday morning. Many of them, although very annoying, proved not serious, and after much delay and vexation the teams were able to move on.

The milk wagon of Mr. B. Frank Hodgkinson sunk to the hub in a trench on Greenleaf street. After procuring another wagon, and unloading his milk from the disabled one, he went on his way, feeling no doubt greatly vexed at the miserable manner the Water Company have done their work in our streets.

On Chestnut street, nearly in front of Mr. Frank C. Packard's residence, an empty coal team of Messrs. Shepard & Sons, sunk to the hubs and the horse to his belly. After taking off the harness, the poor animal with some assistance succeeded in getting out. A crowd soon gathered and assisted the driver in getting his wagon on terra firma, and he went on his way rejoicing that he had escaped so fortunate, having only exchanged a white horse for a black one.

On Canal street, Mr. Frank W. Jacob in delivering his milk, met with a similar obstacle.

The question is now often asked: Have we any one to look after our streets? Oh, yes, says one, we have a Superintendent. That's so, we have Mr. Rogers, a very fine gentleman whom we much respect. But does he know or care anything about our streets, except his salary of $2,000. It does not seem so, if we judge by the horrid manner in which they have been left the past month by the Water Company. Either he has not got the back bone to face the Quincy Water Company and have them do their work decently, or he does not know what the town wants. Perhaps we state it too strongly. Mr. Rogers being a stranger in Quincy, may be a little delicate about showing his authority, and waits for the Road Commissioners to dictate. Two of the Board being in Boston most of the time, seldom passing over many of our streets, are probably not aware of the miserable condition they are in. Loads after loads of cobble stones, large as a man's fist and larger, are left on the surface to be knocked about and to interfere with the runners of our sleighs and puns as soon as sleighing commences, and we now expect snow any day. High ridges are left, which have already overset several of our citizens. These things are not right, and the town needs some one to look to its streets.

Many are praying for the good old democratic times when the three Settlers of the town made it their business to go over the streets and see what was wanted. Unless we have a change for the better soon we believe that the voters of Quincy will decide to throw the Road Commissioners to the dogs, and go on the good old-fashioned way.

The Coming Fair.

As the date for the grand fair by Rural Lodge approaches the interest increases. The season tickets are meeting with a ready sale, and as the number is limited, it is necessary that those wishing the same should apply early. The drawing of the prizes, it is said, will be honestly conducted, and should not be the 3,500 is sold, those which are not will be destroyed, and not taken by the lodge itself. Mr. A. Brackett is chairman of the executive committee, and is working hard in the interests of the Lodge. There are committees on prizes, fancy articles, furniture, musical instruments, entertainments, refreshments, sports, etc., and all are doing their utmost to make a grand enjoyable and successful occasion. The Robertson Block will certainly be a lively place from the 15th to the 23rd of December. Besides the season ticket prizes, there is to be a drawing by shares the celebrated steam launch, "Florence," which was built recently by one of our Quincy rising mechanics. But 750 tickets are to be sold, at $1 each. The "Old Boat" is another attraction, and is under the direction of Mr. H. O. Fairbanks, of Wollaston, and will contain a valuable collection of receipts. What Rural Lodge undertakes can usually be depended on as being first-class, and the coming grand fair will be no exception.

People's Course. Dr. William Everett has the rare faculty of making interesting everything he deals with. We may expect, therefore, his lecture on Gladiators this Sunday evening, to be both instructive and full of brilliant passages; this more especially as Dr. Everett has long watched with deep attention the course of the "grand old game," who is now a member of the English Government. There may be room for all; at least we can guarantee an orderly audience.

Water Works. The work of the Water Company goes on bravely. The weather being excellent for the things forward, the last reservoir on Penn's Hill has reached its destined height—sixty feet—and will soon be ready to receive water.

The pumping-machine is ready for the engines and pumps, and the large pump has already arrived and will soon be in working order. The well is nearly completed. Some of the larger pipes remain to be laid through Washington, Hancock, School and Franklin streets, and then we may have the water in our dwellings.

Dried Fowls.

- 1. Turkeys are high.
- 2. Eat and be merry.
- 3. A mild Thanksgiving.
- 4. Remember the poor and needy.
- 5. Have you secured your ticket to the Masonic Fair?
- 6. The Legion of Honor are soon to hold a dance.
- 7. The schools closed Tuesday night for the week.
- 8. A good competent girl is wanted to do general house-work.
- 9. A young lady would like to secure a situation as book-keeper.
- 10. Thanksgiving will probably be very quietly observed in Quincy.
- 11. Mr. Charles Crane has received a fine lot of choice Cape turnips.
- 12. Mr. N. B. Farnall's house has been connected with the telephone this week.
- 13. A large number of house connections have been made with the water-pipes.
- 14. The annual reunion of the F. F.'s is to be held on Wednesday evening, January 9.
- 15. It is rather dangerous riding on our streets by night. Several slight accidents have occurred.
- 16. Religious services on Thanksgiving Day will be held in the Congregational and Christ Churches.
- 17. Mrs. Joseph Burrell is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Solomon Lovell, of North Weymouth, for a few weeks.
- 18. On Tuesday next Auctioneer L. and will sell the real estate in Quincy, owned by Frederick Southern.
- 19. The circulation of the PATRIOT is very extensive, it being a welcome visitor to four of the five continents on the globe.
- 20. Ladies desirous of having children's garments or wrappers cut and made are referred to our advertising columns.
- 21. Mr. Edward Carlton, of this town was the prize of one hundred dollars in the walking match at Waltham, last Saturday.
- 22. On the day before Thanksgiving last year there was a good snow storm, and there was a little sleighing on Thanksgiving Day.
- 23. Mr. Cyrus Patch, who is noted for his generosity, gave each one of those in his employ a fine turkey for their Thanksgiving dinner.
- 24. The wife of Mr. William P. Martin is very seriously sick, but we are pleased to hear that her symptoms the first of the present week were favorable.
- 25. Mr. I. Freeman Hall, formerly of Quincy, on Wednesday last week delivered a most able address upon "Education," before a teachers' convention at Norwich, Conn.
- 26. Miss T. S. Book of New Castle, Penn., and a schoolmate of Miss Annie L. Prescott at the Northfield (Mass.) Seminary, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with that young lady in Quincy.
- 27. Mr. Jacob Flint has greatly improved and beautified his residence on Hancock street by building two dormer windows and a porch over the front door; he is also having his house handsomely painted.
- 28. Do not forget that Joseph W. Lombard will sell some excellent wood standing on fifty acres of land on Friday, November 30, as will be seen by referring to an advertisement in another column.
- 29. Mr. G. Fred Wilson, who always enjoys making improvements around his estate, is now building a large shed adjoining his stable; he is also having a new curbing set in front of his sidewalk.
- 30. We were in error last week when we stated that Miss S. A. Pfaffman of Wollaston, had been appointed to the vacancy in the teachers at the High School; the position has not yet been filled we believe.
- 31. The setting of the curbing around the grounds of the Congregational Church has been completed, and the lawn has been graded, and it has made a decided improvement in the looks of the estate. New curbstones are to be set around the sidewalk.
- 32. Two young men of this town enjoyed a very pleasant walk on Sunday, passing through the towns of Braintree, Weymouth, East Weymouth, Hingham and North Weymouth. It took them over four hours, and they came home rather weary of their pedestrian tour.
- 33. Our rough New England clime has been rather heavily on the Italians working on our water works; we learn that several of them are sick with pneumonia. One of their number has died, and was buried in the Catholic Cemetery, West Quincy, on Tuesday last.
- 34. The St. Nicholas Club of the class '92, of Quincy High School, held its annual ball at Faxon Hall on Friday evening last. There was quite a large party present—about forty couples—who danced to the music of Porter's Orchestra, of Hingham, Bay. Refreshments were served in the lower hall.
- 35. The dancing class at Faxon Hall under the instruction of Madame J. Arcan is a great success. The pupils have improved wonderfully. The last half commences Thursday evening, Dec. 6th, when the German will be taken up. This will be a fine opportunity for those wishing practice to join.
- 36. We can judge how we are appreciated by the number of our friends, and there is one man in Quincy who can count his by the hundreds, and that is our genial and polite Deputy Sheriff, W. M. French, Esq. During the first four weeks of his recent sickness there were over four hundred calls to inquire after his health, and leave their kind regards. Happy man.
- 37. Good Job. Mr. William H. Glenon has built three flights of stone steps and a stone arch receiving tomb in the Catholic cemetery at West Quincy, which is said to be the best job of rough rubble and broken ashlar mason work that has ever been done. The greater part of it he did alone, with the help of one of his patent dricks.
- 38. Ahead of Time. We print and circulate the PATRIOT this week on Wednesday, which will account for the appearance of some articles.

DEATH. Mary Sampson, wife of Mr. Horace Sampson, died on Saturday, at the age of thirty-one years. She had been a sufferer for the past two or three years from diabetes, which was the cause of her death. Her funeral occurred on Tuesday afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The room was fragrant with many beautiful flowers. Rev. George P. Lawton officiated, conducting the services in a most feeling and appropriate manner. Mrs. Sampson will be greatly missed by her many friends.

PERSONAL. The Vulture Engine Company will hold its regular monthly meeting on our streets by night. Several slight accidents have occurred.

THIS AND THAT. The well known game of football will be played on Thanksgiving morning, at Point Holes; after which the participants will doubtless do full justice to turkey dinners.

Miss Annie B. Sampson is spending the week at her home.

Mr. S. Sears has gone to East Dennis for a few days.

Miss G. Lancaster has gone to her home in Concord, New Hampshire, to spend Thanksgiving.

Arrived, November 26th. Schooner George Ferguson, Captain Ryan, from Belfast, Maine, with granite for Quincy parties.

W. S. A. The Washington School Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday evening, December 6th, at the residence of Ella Freeman. A full attendance is desired.

To those who are members of classes 74, 75 and 76 of the Washington School, and who have not as yet joined the association, a cordial invitation is extended to be present on that evening.

LOAFERS. Complaints have lately been made that a number of fellows, some men in age, persist in loitering on the corner of Washington and South streets, annoying all who pass on their way to the post office, by making rude speeches and remarks.

This is not going to be stood any longer; the names of the lads have been mentioned to an officer, who will make trouble for them before the week is out, unless there is a decided change for the better in their behavior.

West Quincy Items.

A Sunday School concert was held at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening. The programme was of unusual interest. The singing was under the direction of Mr. F. Wesley Fuller; assisted at the organ by Miss Emma Fuller. A large attendance was present.

The annual fair given by the ladies of the M. E. Church will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. Entertainment will be furnished each evening, and will consist of music, select readings, gymnastics by the ladies, tableaux, dramatics, and a farce entitled "The Two Puddifoots." Useful and fancy articles will be for sale each evening. A supper will be served each evening with ice cream, etc. A present will be voted to the most useful man at the fair. The proceeds will be used to help build a parsonage.

Mr. C. E. Watts has started a barber shop in Mr. McGowan's building, near the depot.

Mr. Charles H. Fuller had his leg badly injured by a stone drag passing over it, while at the quarry on Monday.

The Apollo Club will hold its next meeting on Monday evening, December 3d, instead of Thursday evening.

The marriage of Mr. M. J. Carey, of West Quincy, to Miss M. A. Correy, of Canton, took place at the residence of the bride's father, on Washington street, Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, P. M. After a most reception, the bride and groom returned to their home in West Quincy, where they will remain two weeks, and from thence will go to Washington, after which they will return to their new home in West Quincy. They received many valuable presents, and as the kind wishes of their many friends.

A. A. NICE NUMBER. The American Agriculturist for December closes the forty-second volume of this leading farm journal with a most excellent number. It contains over ninety-one original engravings by Forbes, Trumble, Hays, Halm, and other artists. There are in all over one hundred original engravings, of which four are full-page engravings. "Home from the Wood," "Typical horses at the New York Show," "Christmas Comes but Once a Year," and a truly beautiful first page cover. Among the well known writers are Dr. George Thurber, Orange Judell, Dr. B. D. Halsted, Prof. S. R. Thompson, M. C. Weld, J. M. Stahl, F. D. Coburn, D. M. Weldon, Prof. A. J. Cook, W. D. Boynton, W. M. Meach, P. H. Jacobs, E. A. Long, M. E. Bamford, L. D. Shook, Mrs. G. Bush, Jr., Ethel Stone, Mrs. A. Elliott, and a long list of others. Price $1.50 per year.

A HANDY BOOK. The Canton Journal says: "Faxon of Quincy has picked all the laws from the statutes relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors, had it printed, bound and embellished with his portrait and autograph, and is now distributing it among newspaper men. It is a very handy book for reference, and the low price ($2.50) at which it is sold to the public will probably send its author into the book publishing business. Every rumrunner will want one."

OLD COLONY. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad Company was held in Boston on Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock, at the United States Hotel, President Charles F. Choate in the chair. The report of the Directors was presented in print and was accepted. A Board of Directors was elected by a unanimous stock vote of 23,213 shares.

A lady at Elgin, Ill., whose carriage wheel had assembled her friends, delivered a discourse under the bird's name, and had it buried in the cemetery.

"One of the Boston dailies says: 'Money is abundant and easy in the market, and those who have it in their possession are for the time at a loss to know what disposition to make of it.'"

Chas. Lovering, Esq., of Taunton has been elected director of the Old Colony railroad in place of the late Mr. Marston.

It is said that Warden Usher of the State Prison and Insurance Commissioner Tarbox will each resign at the close of their first year's service.

Philadelphia druggists have united in a request that manufacturers should not sell their patent medicines to grocers and shop-keepers who are not druggists, and who have been cutting down the prices.

The corn crop of the United States this year is estimated at 1,621,000 bushels, making the largest, with one exception, in the history of the country.

They serve charlotte russe now at dinner parties in tiny poke bonnets made of satin paper and tied with bright-colored ribbon.

There are twenty-eight farmers and half a million men in Ohio Legislature.

Mexico has a population of ten and a half millions, more than a third of whom are of pure Indian blood.

Republicans are not always ungrateful. The United States has paid its soldiers $700,000,000 in pensions.

The comet is now a very interesting object. At 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, says the Providence Journal, it was visible to the naked eye.

Fifteen farmers on adjoining farms in Barnard, Vt., have over sixteen hundred turkeys that will average ten pounds apiece dressed.

It is said that the water in Hunter's Springs, Minn., possesses the extraordinary quality of coloring glass through and through a delicate pink color.

Blankets taken from an Englishman who had made them five hundred and fifty years ago.

A Columbia, S. C., baby, five days old, weighs a pound and a half, and wears the clothes of its sister's doll.

A Boston letter writes that the publishers of the Youth's Companion are to pay Tenney $1000 for a poem, which they will soon publish in this paper.

The remains of Harvey, discovered after the circulation of the blood, have been placed in a thousand-dollar marble coffin by the Royal College of Physicians.

Over $48,000,000 was expended in the construction of new buildings in New York during the first nine months of the present year.

The funerals of several hundred gallons of ammonia, liberated by the explosion of an ice machine in a Cincinnati brewery, killed thirty-three horses next door.

DEATH. Mary Sampson, wife of Mr. Horace Sampson, died on Saturday, at the age of thirty-one years. She had been a sufferer for the past two or three years from diabetes, which was the cause of her death. Her funeral occurred on Tuesday afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The room was fragrant with many beautiful flowers. Rev. George P. Lawton officiated, conducting the services in a most feeling and appropriate manner. Mrs. Sampson will be greatly missed by her many friends.

PERSONAL. The Vulture Engine Company will hold its regular monthly meeting on our streets by night. Several slight accidents have occurred.

THIS AND THAT. The well known game of football will be played on Thanksgiving morning, at Point Holes; after which the participants will doubtless do full justice to turkey dinners.

Miss Annie B. Sampson is spending the week at her home.

Mr. S. Sears has gone to East Dennis for a few days.

Miss G. Lancaster has gone to her home in Concord, New Hampshire, to spend Thanksgiving.

Arrived, November 26th. Schooner George Ferguson, Captain Ryan, from Belfast, Maine, with granite for Quincy parties.

W. S. A. The Washington School Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday evening, December 6th, at the residence of Ella Freeman. A full attendance is desired.

To those who are members of classes 74, 75 and 76 of the Washington School, and who have not as yet joined the association, a cordial invitation is extended to be present on that evening.

LOAFERS. Complaints have lately been made that a number of fellows, some men in age, persist in loitering on the corner of Washington and South streets, annoying all who pass on their way to the post office, by making rude speeches and remarks.

This is not going to be stood any longer; the names of the lads have been mentioned to an officer, who will make trouble for them before the week is out, unless there is a decided change for the better in their behavior.

The Quincy Patriot.
SATURDAY, DEC. 8, 1883.
For the Patriot.
A City Call.
Ah! good morning to you Ollie! I've come to make a call.
So please not leave me here standing in the hall.
I know I'm very early, perhaps I may intrude;
But then it's only Mollie, and you know she's very kind.
Perhaps I'll be a nuisance coming in at such an hour.
But then we country lasses wake up early, with the flowers.
But if your room's asleep, and you haven't bathed your face, I'll hop down in some corner, while you put things in their places.
Or here, I'll help you, Ollie, so pass along the kitchen.
And I'll make those other chairs go dancing round the room.
Just too along that dining cap, while I tuck away my hair.
There now, I'm armed and informed, and war
I do declare.
What is this I hear you saying? That I look like some old maid.
Reared up in Northern regions, and stirred up with a spear.
Well, never mind the compliments, I guess we'll leave them pass.
But just turn round, young lady, and look into the glass.
There are carmine little blushes, they look like lumps of lead.
Have started up like mushrooms, a growing on your head.
You look so droll and funny with your back up to my hair.
Did you have a fall while skating, and your spine got all the thump?
And so you see, my lady, the pot can't call the kettle black.
Though really in situations I'm sure you do not lack.
Well, there, I've got through now, and I'm sightly glad it's done.
Forgive that rude expression, but it's work that has to be done.
Just take that bunch of feathers and drive this vile dust out.
The "vile dust" can't stand it, let it go another day.
Less said, more done. What are you stopping for? I'm sightly glad to go.
Just shake the feathers hard and fast, while I stand here and blow.
Oh, no, let's go and leave it, perhaps 'twill settle down.
And then I'll take a dampened cloth and do the work up front.
So don't your cheek and bosom and we'll go out on the street.
Now walk up your proper; don't go so like a straw.
Dear me! I hate these tie-backs! Must I stay my hair?
I fear these city fashions will do this country belle.
Say, Ollie, what's the matter with that woman just ahead?
Her dress hangs stiff and pokey, just like a feather bed.
Oh, well, have just a moment, I guess it won't be ruled.
I think her looks like I'm lost to find a word,
And I'm glad I did "toss it, for it's better left than lost.
I'm lost in that awkwardness at your specimen of style.
Your finger-dishes and dainty girls will last me for a while.
I want to keep what little sense I possess to my nose.
And for these moral fashions, just tell me who's to blame?

Thanksgiving Sermon.
BY DR. MALLELLE.
The curse of the Commonwealth is the beverage, sale and use of alcoholic drinks, and in its presence well may we hush our joyous thanksgiving, change
our beauty into ashes, and our songs
and congratulations into profoundest humiliation and bitterest wailing.
All shames and crimes, all woes and sorrows, all agonies of heart and brain, all miseries of time, all horrors and disparities, and death of perdition come to needless waste, made in the image and likeness of God, from the workings of this fearful and immeasurable curse.
This curse of drink sends every year from our own land more than 65,000
poor, wrecked souls out into eternity;
it beggars and tortures and murders
little helpless children and broken-hearted women; it fights against the school, the church, and the home, with all the infernal persistency, ingenuity
and malignity of Satan, and this highly educated, Christian nation permits
the existence of this blackest, most hateful and most destructive curse, that ever afflicted humanity. The old Bay
State has fallen from her proud position.
She throws the shield of her protection over the rumrunner, and so the Commonwealth is made a sharer in the price of blood, and takes from bloody hand coin dripping with the blood of her own households, and for a miserable pittance proclaims the curse
a blessing and protects the sale and the seller of alcoholic beverages.
Abounding in blessings, Massachusetts, with a perversity that amounts to infatuation, tolerates the abominable curse of drink. This curse does our victims death every hour in the year;
it crowds our prisons and almshouses;
it spreads ruin and desolation everywhere it exists. The dastardly rum-runner to Heaven Hill, and governors turn pale; it has much power, much money,
many votes. It claims respectability;
it no longer enters the State House
and demands recognition, and invertebrate senators and representatives bow down to the demands of this blood-thirsty, Heaven-cursed traffic.
Surely this is no time for rest; while such terrible facts abound we ought to consecrate our lives with changed devotion to the advancement of those principles which being triumphant shall first suppress and then destroy the hateful traffic, and use of intoxicating drinks, and deliver our people from that which is now the curse of the Commonwealth.

Fashion Notes.
Basques, as a rule, are short and are pointed both back and front.
Bridal on the Continent no longer wear gloves at the ceremony.
Velvet, chenille and thread lace figure in dress bonnets this autumn.
The silks, satins, and broades of this season are dazlingly beautiful.
It is again fashionable to wear a fancy pin in the bosom under the chin.
Wide braid in gilt, black and silver is much employed for dress trimmings.
Certain chains now have balls of ash, wax, and other wood at the end.
Of all the forms of the feminine waist, that of our birds fair to be most popular.
Buttons are no longer as pretty or as effective as they used to be, and it is very hard to get a button to harmonize with one's dress, no matter how great a price she may pay for it.
They are either too severely plain, or else they have a cheap, flashy look that is very objectionable.

principles which being triumphant shall first suppress and then destroy the hateful traffic, and use of intoxicating drinks, and deliver our people from that which is now the curse of the Commonwealth.

BY DR. MALLELLE.
The curse of the Commonwealth is the beverage, sale and use of alcoholic drinks, and in its presence well may we hush our joyous thanksgiving, change
our beauty into ashes, and our songs
and congratulations into profoundest
humiliation and bitterest wailing.
All shames and crimes, all woes and sorrows, all agonies of heart and brain,
all miseries of time, all horrors and disparities, and death of perdition come to needless waste, made in the image
and likeness of God, from the workings of this fearful and immeasurable curse.
This curse of drink sends every year
from our own land more than 65,000
poor, wrecked souls out into eternity;
it beggars and tortures and murders
little helpless children and broken-hearted women; it fights against the school, the church, and the home, with all the infernal persistency, ingenuity and malignity of Satan, and this highly educated, Christian nation permits
the existence of this blackest, most hateful and most destructive curse, that ever afflicted humanity. The old Bay
State has fallen from her proud position.
She throws the shield of her protection over the rumrunner, and so the Commonwealth is made a sharer in the price of blood, and takes from bloody hand coin dripping with the blood of her own households, and for a miserable pittance proclaims the curse
a blessing and protects the sale and the seller of alcoholic beverages.
Abounding in blessings, Massachusetts, with a perversity that amounts to infatuation, tolerates the abominable
curse of drink. This curse does our victims death every hour in the year;
it crowds our prisons and almshouses;
it spreads ruin and desolation everywhere it exists. The dastardly rum-runner to Heaven Hill, and governors turn pale; it has much power, much money,
many votes. It claims respectability;
it no longer enters the State House
and demands recognition, and invertebrate senators and representatives
bow down to the demands of this blood-thirsty, Heaven-cursed traffic.
Surely this is no time for rest; while such terrible facts abound we ought to consecrate our lives with changed devotion to the advancement of those principles which being triumphant shall first suppress and then destroy the hateful traffic, and use of intoxicating drinks, and deliver our people
from that which is now the curse of

The Quincy Patriot.
SATURDAY, DEC. 22, 1883.
For the Patriot.
The Surprise Party.

Very early in the evening, ere the stars were peeping out,
On the moon drew back her curtains, to light us on our route.
"All aboard!" was shouted cheerily for the lighting speed.
And we girls scrambled in for the seat which was the best.
Our coats, perhaps, were rustic, and couldn't count a score;
If the seats did move about, we only laughed the time in store.
For every one was jovial as that eve we jugged along.
It was a first witty repartee, and then a gush of song.
And so quickly passed the moments, before we hardly knew We waited at the mansion, and an usher came in view.
We waited for each other, and then we all found in store.
Our host stood almost speechless, the surprise was so complete.
Gave he thought when first he saw us, "Punch and Judy" come to greet.
But he bravely stood the shock, if it was a sudden stroke.
Gave us each a cordial welcome, and took it as a joke.
We chatted for a while, then music was our theme.
So our voices were blended, then a duet came before.
For nearly all our party had been there three times before.
They felt in their bones, I s'pose, of the good time in store.

Temperance.
Furnished for publication by the W. C. T. Union.
Legislative Report, 1867.

"Society and the state have the right to protect themselves against great and overwhelming evils, and if to prevent these evils it becomes necessary to prohibit the sale of intoxicating beverages, the use of which is the known cause of such evils, even if the prohibition results in depriving the individual citizen of the power to get drunk, or to eat and drink to excess, or to indulge in other pleasures, which are the result of the use of such beverages, it is a deprivation to which it is his duty to submit, and he cannot call upon the state or the whole society to forego the execution of its great right of self-protection, or its duty to prevent and redress crimes against individuals."

Female Difficulties.
In Young or Old, Married or Single, yield readily to the influence of Female Difficulties. It is a common complaint, and one which is often the result of the use of such beverages, and it is a deprivation to which it is his duty to submit, and he cannot call upon the state or the whole society to forego the execution of its great right of self-protection, or its duty to prevent and redress crimes against individuals."

Household Receipts.
CHRISTMAS PUDDING. One and one-half pounds flour, one-half pound bread crumbs, three-quarters of a pound finely-chopped suet, one-half pound nutmeg, grated, one teaspoonful ground mace, one teaspoonful cinnamon, six eggs, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful brown sugar, milk to make a stiff batter, one quart; after beating well in a large bowl or colander may receive the pudding; tie it with a strong cord, place the pudding round side up in a pot of boiling water, (having an old plate in the bottom to keep the pudding from burning; turn it over every five minutes till half an hour is past; afterward at intervals of thirty or forty minutes, the pudding will require six hours' constant boiling; the grated rind of an orange and lemon improve the flavor.

THIS and THAT.
"I don't take much stock in proverbs," said Brown to the quoted one. "For instance, look at the oft-quoted one: 'A friend in need is a friend indeed.' Now, most of my experience with friends in need has been that they wanted to borrow. Give me the friend that is not in need."

An Advertising Melody.

There was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise, for when he marked his prices, downy leather did

And when he saw his trade increase, with all his might and main, he marked still lower every price and advertised again.

And when he advertised again his rivals loudly swore, to see folks rush with might and main to patronize his store.

And while they sat in solitude and saw him custom win, that man behind the counter stood and raked the shakels.

And when he raked the shekels in, and saw his fortune rising, he took a goodly lot of tin and kept on advertising.

Each day a generous sum he'd sink, and demonstrate full plain, the more one pays for printer's ink the greater is his gain.

Cured by a Blunder.

A physician was called by a foreign family, and prescribed "one pill to be taken three times a day in any convenient vehicle." The family looked in the dictionary to get at the meaning of the prescription. They got on well as far as the word vehicle. To this they found "cart, wagon, carriage, buggy, wheelbarrow." After a grave consideration they came to the conclusion that the doctor meant that the patient should ride out, and while in the vehicle he should take the pill. The supposed advice was followed to the very letter, and in the course of a few weeks the fresh air and exercise

One day a pompous little fellow at a dinner-table was boasting of the great men with whom he was on intimate terms. He had been in constant correspondence with Longfellow, had lunched with Tennyson, was in friendly relations with the Prince of Wales, and, in short, knew everything and and in short, knew everything and everybody. At length a quiet individual at the further end of the room broke in on the conversation with the question: "My dear sir, did you happen to know the Siamese Twins when they were in this country?" Our hero, who evidently had a talent for lying, but no real genius, at once replied: "The Siamese Twins, sir? Yes, sir. I became very intimate with one of them, but I never had the good fortune to meet the other."

Bring Me Some Hash.

On one of the Northern trains recently was an old lady who evidently had never before made a railroad journey. After looking about her for some time in curiosity, her eyes alighted on the bell line and she asked the water boy, who happened to be passing at the time, what it was for.

"That, marm," said the boy, with a wicked twinkle in his eyes, "is to ring when you want anything to eat," and passed on.

Shortly after the old lady got down the family umbrella and reaching up to the bell line gave it a vigorous pull. Of course the brakes were applied, the windows thrown up, questions asked, etc., the old lady sitting calmly through the confusion. Presently the conductor came rushing into the car snapped the official, impatiently.

“I did,” replied the old lady, meekly.

“Well,” said the old party, meditatively, “you may bring me some hash.”

 The number of tickets collected by a first-class railroad in the course of a year is something stupendous. Five tons of these trifling paper slips accumulate in the Boston and Albany Rail-

The colored tickets are bundled up by themselves in neat packages, and the white ones in separate lots, the latter, of course, bringing the higher price.

CHRISTMAS. Many people suppose that the X in Xmas represents the cross, and wonder that it is not written tmas. The X, however, has nothing to do with the cross. It is the Greek letter Chi, corresponding to ch in our language, and is the initial letter in the Greek name (Christos, but we have no type in the Greek alphabet to reproduce it) of Christ. The two words Christ-mass were often written Xmas before Christmas became one word, and this use of the X is almost as old as Christianity itself.

BOSTON PARKS. The Back Bay park has had expended on it thus far $161,913.70. A portion will be planted next spring with grass and shrubs. Fully five hundred and eighty-five acres have been taken or purchased for the West Roxbury park, and sixty-five more are in negotiation. City Point park has been levelled off and filled up at a cost of $1500, with the prospect of a beautiful water esplanade by and by. The Arnold Arboretum shows signs of fostering care and intelligent supervision. Improvements are constantly being made. Boston's parks are a promise of great merit in a few years.

FOURTH CLASS POSTAGE. The post-master-general decides that labels, patterns, playing cards, tickets, photographs, lithographs, engravings, samples of printing, valentines, fancy lithographed and engraved cards (including Christmas, New Year and Easter cards), address tags, scrap pictures, blank books, desk blotters, with or without printing thereon, and also maps, prints, show cards, etc., printed on or attached to other material than paper (which includes card-board), or mounted on rollers or with metal bindings, or in frames, must pay postage of the fourth class, or 1 cent an ounce.

WELL SWEETENED. Nobody would believe the Provincetown girls could consume so much sweetening, but the Advocate says that three tons of candy are sold in that town each month. The young men ought to be successful in their suits.

EIGHTEEN years ago Quincy and Marcus Reed of South Abington, lost a large sum of money and bonds amounting to $10,000. Nothing was ever heard from it until a few weeks ago. While repairs were being made on the house of Daniel Reed, another brother, $2,000 in 7-30 bonds were discovered which were at once recognized by Marcus Reed as part of the stolen property. No suspicion, so far as we have heard, attaches to the brother, and the mystery now to be solved is, who is the guilty party?

ABOUT six hundred women registered in Boston to vote for school committee. This is a gain in last year's number and shows the increased interest of women in the right of suffrage.

THE MILTON NEWS has been changed from a four to an eight-page paper. It makes a very neat appearance, and deserves the good success which its publisher, W. A. Woodward, is receiving.

A citizen of Palatka, Fla., recently set fire to a hollow gum tree and then watched the outlet, some fifty feet from the ground, to see what the developments would be. First came a swarm of bats, then flying squirrels, screech owls, various other night birds, two coons and one possum.

A fine new almshouse has just been completed at Brockton. It is of the Queen Anne style of architecture, two stories with mansard roof. The city appropriated $12,500 for its erection, and a contract was made for the house and barn for $11,300. The building is heated by steam and has all modern conveniences.

A gentleman and his son, at South Weymouth, rode to a lecture the other evening each supposing the other was driving the horse. They didn't discover, until near their destination, when the animal turned into a neighboring yard, that the reins had been dragging behind the horses heels all the way.

THE Church of the Good Shepherd, at Wareham, is surrounded with a barb wire fence. Solomon says it is to protect the sheep from the dogs.

A New Haven, Conn., girl has been dangerously poisoned by getting green worsted in fancy work, and others are suffering from wearing green stockings. The dealers say that only the cheaper grade of goods poison, as the dyes are not properly set.

LIBEL SUITS. An exchange says: "Libel suits against newspapers rarely prove a paying speculation. There is one man in Ohio who would probably endorse this statement. He sued a paper that had called him a liar, for $10,000, and the jury sized him up five cents. Since the verdict the chief amusement in the town has been to call the disappointed plaintiff up by telephone, as follows: "Hello! Is that —?" "Yes, sir." "Well you're a liar. Draw on me at sight for the five cents."

THE Stoughton Sentinel says: "Several persons this week have requested us not to publish anything concerning them. While admiring this modesty we feel almost compelled to let our readers know the worthy people we have among us. Therefore, in future we shall publish the name of the first person who approaches us with a similar request, as our people should know that modesty is admired by some of our readers at least."

THE South Congregational Church of Concord, on Tuesday evening of last week, got up an oyster supper in their spacious chapel and invited every boy in the city to come into the church, listen to music and addresses, and then partake of their hospitality. Nearly 500 accepted the invitation. The pastor, Mayor Woodman, and others made remarks. After some fine singing and music, the boys marched into the chapel and enjoyed the good things furnished on a generous scale.

WILLIAM D. Kelley is expected to introduce in the House at an early day a bill to limit the coinage of silver to $1,000 a year until the free coinage of full legal-tender gold and silver is established at a common ratio by the leading commercial nations of Europe in concert with our government. This is progress in the mind of Mr. Kelley, as he was one of the chief supporters of the unlimited coinage of "the dollars of our fathers."

THE United States Consul at Florence reports that there are now offered for sale a painting by Murillo, twenty-five by eighteen inches, price thirty thousand dollars; a painting by Raffaello Sanzio d'Urbino, bearing his signature, nine by six inches, price eighty thousand dollars; and a marble statue, "A boy," the only sculpture by Urbino, price one hundred and forty thousand dollars. The consul reports the matter for the benefit of the museums and art collectors of the United States, and says that the prices are probably double the amounts that would be accepted.—Boston Commonwealth.

PRESIDENT John Taylor, the official head of the Mormon Church, is preparing an elaborate statement of the political and social attitude of the Latter-day Saints, for the January number of the North American Review.

TWO remarkable and curious walking sticks are in the possession of Robert Tale of Norwich, Chenango county, N. Y. The walking sticks contain 1,400 separate pieces, ingeniously wrought. The cane contains 2,000 pieces, many of them relics from historical spots.

THE price paid for the land (1084 square feet) and buildings on the southeast corner of Tremont and School street, Boston, was $150,000, or $75.61 per foot. A nine-story building of white marble will at once go up on the corner—an enlargement of the Parker House.

A man in Dooley county, Ga., seventy-six years old, is living in the house where he was born, and has never spent but one night from under its roof in his life.

Boston gave a majority of 9,000 on Tuesday, Dec. 11, in favor of licensing liquor shops. Last year the majority in favor of license was over 13,000.

Barnum has secured a white elephant, and he will appear in this country as the rival in attraction to the renowned "Jumbo."

THE popularity and esteem in which the Register of Probate and Sheriff of Norfolk County are held is well illustrated by the vote which they received at the late election. Out of a total vote of 19,030, Jonathan Cobb received 18,273, and Rufus C. Wood 18,164. This unqualified endorsement of the present incumbents must be highly gratifying to them.—Dorham Transcript.

Twenty-seven "huge" trunks were counted, a short time ago, at an English hotel, all of them belonging to a single guest—a Russian Grand Duke. On this side he would doubtless travel by the Grand Trunk line.

Portland (Me.) clergymen have agreed to preach by the old-fashioned time.

Effects of Tobacco Chewing.

There is a young lad in the city who has a good place, and attends faithfully to his duties. He had one bad habit, and that was chewing tobacco, in which he indulged more freely than men who had chewed for 50 years. Last Saturday a gentleman offered the boy $5 if he would stop chewing for a year. Another followed suit, and a third, all signing their names to a paper agreeing to give the same sum. The boy said he would win the money, washed his mouth and began right away. Sunday he felt badly, and Monday he was worse. Tuesday he shook and trembled like a man in the delirium tremens, and yesterday he was confined to his bed, from which he has not yet got up; and it will take some time before the effects of the poison in his system can be worked out.—Hartford Times.

Singular Phenomenon.

Suddenly, during a perfect calm at Kargen, in the Province of Bohus, Sweden, a violent whirlwind arose on the night of Sept. 24. It came from South-east, bringing with it quantities of sand, earth and straw. Quite unexpectedly a bright light chased away the darkness, rendering every object as visible as at noon. The illumination was caused by a grand meteor, shaped like an egg, which appeared in the zeniths, and which at first seemed to consist of myriads of large sparks, gradually changing into a star shining with a blinding lustre, and with all the colors of the rainbow, in the North-west, four or five metres above the horizon. As soon as the meteor disappeared the wind fell just as suddenly as it arose. The phenomenon lasted only about one minute.

Summary of News.

Ex-Governor Talbot will retire from the Board of Charities after January 1.

Within the last eighty years Congress has spent more than $100,000,000 on a city of Washington.

A new railway station at No. Easton, to be completed in two or three weeks, is built at the expense of Fred L. and Oliver Ames, and is to cost $20,000.

The Manchester (N. H.) girl who went West a few weeks ago to meet a wealthy farmer who had made her acquaintance wholly by mail, was satisfied with the appearance of the man and was married to him.

Gen. Neal Dow, of Maine, has lately regained possession of a pistol taken from him when he was captured by the enemy during the rebellion. It was returned to him by one of the party which captured him, then a lad seven years old.

Knew His Brother.

When the stranger remarked that he was from Arkansas, one of the passengers suddenly turned and asked: "You are eh? Maybe you are from Centenden county?" "I am that." "Perhaps from James' Landing?" "That's it exactly." "Then, maybe you know my brother, William Henry Jones, from Penn Yan, this State?" "Stranger, put it that!" exclaimed the Arkansas traveler, as he extended his hand and smiled all over. "Bust my button, if I didn't help hang your brother for cattle stealing just before I left home."—Wall Street News.

ANNUAL ELECTION. Massachusetts and Rhode Island are the only states which now elect all state officers and legislature every year, and only six states have sessions of the legislature every year.

John Quincy Adams drew $425,000 out of the government for a period of sixty-nine years in office.

This issue of the QUINCY PATRIOT closes the forty-seventh year of its existence. How swiftly the years roll round, and how forcibly it reminds us that our stay on earth is short, at best. Since the PATRIOT first made its bow, what changes have taken place, not only in our little town of a few thousand population, but in the country at large. The PATRIOT, which has been conducted through these many years for the good of its citizens, and the town generally, has gone on gradually gaining in strength and influence, until today it is one of the largest and best patronized papers in Norfolk County.

The circulation of the PATRIOT, although small for many years, is now equal to any country weekly for miles around, and, we are pleased to say, is constantly increasing. This is a good time to subscribe, at the commencement of a new volume and of a new year, and some have already done so. We send an agent to canvass from house to house, but would invite all new comers and strangers in town to call and see us, and have their names enrolled with the PATRIOT's list.

Our aim in the future, as in the past, will be to make the PATRIOT a blessing to each and every household; not to any one person or class, but to the whole town.

Our columns will be open to all subjects of interest to our citizens, when written in a courteous manner and free from malice or personal attack. It is a source of gratification to us that the course the PATRIOT has pursued has received such hearty approval as its generous advertising patronage and extensive circulation so unmistakably indicate.

To the many who have sent us articles for publication, items of news, etc., to enrich the columns of the PATRIOT the past year we return our most hearty thanks, and hope they will continue in the new volume. Their kind wishes are remembered with pleasure.

In closing, we desire to wish all patrons of the PATRIOT and citizens of the town

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

CONGREGATIONAL CHAPEL. At the Congregational Chapel last Monday an entertainment of unusual excellence was provided for the children, entitled "Among the Pines"—four pine trees being personated as Father Pine, Mother Pine, Cousin and Scrub, which were destined at length to yield Christmas gifts to the little village maid, and Jack, her young brother, and through them to others to whom they were carried in trays. The customary house of Santa Claus was not present, but four queer little fellows appeared as his assistants. The exercises required considerable singing by these four curiously dressed dwarfs, who acquitted themselves well, as did all the others.

The entertainment was given twice in the afternoon to 75 of the little ones belonging to the primary department, in the evening to 140 of the older ones, presents being given to each of the 215 scholars, which included all under fifteen years of age.

SILVER WEDDING. The twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eaton, of this town, occurred on Christmas Day, and they celebrated the occasion in a pleasant and social manner, surrounded by friends and neighbors. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lyander S. Richards, of East Marshfield, who also were united in marriage at the same time and place, and who seem a little remarkable, these couples, after a quarter of a century, again meet in the same house on the anniversary of one of the great events of their lives, to congratulate each other on the safe passage of the journey they have enjoyed in the good ship matrimony. May these worthy couples continue to enjoy health and prosperity, and celebrate their golden and diamond anniversaries in the wish of their many friends.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP. Mr. Benjamin F. Curtis has in contemplation a delightful pleasure trip for the winter. He is to be accompanied by his wife, son and Mrs. Francis Williams, who will in a few weeks certainly enjoy a beautiful contrast from the snow and ice of our frigid atmosphere, and the island, sweet breezes of the sunny South, well laden with the sweet perfume of flowers. The tour embraces a short stay in Washington, and from thence to Florida, where a few of the principal cities of the State will be visited. On their homeward trip a short stop in New Orleans will be made and a sail on the majestic Mississippi river will be greatly enjoyed, and Chicago, the great city of the West, will be duly examined. The trip, which will be very enjoyable, and several weeks will be occupied in completing it.

ACCIDENT. Mr. Edward Richardson, formerly at Mr. W. A. Hodges' bakery, met with a serious fall on Monday evening by which he was quite severely injured. He had purchased a sled as a Christmas gift for his little boy, and on bringing it home left it in the yard, that the bright eyes of the little fellow might not discover it, and the fact of his leaving it out doors entirely escaped his memory until returning when his wife asked if he had forgotten the sled. He immediately arose, and slipping on his garments, stepped out to bring it in, but unfortunately his feet slipped and his arm was caught by the fastening of a blind, and he received a bad flesh wound, which necessitated the calling of the family physician, Dr. Sall, who was obliged to take several stitches in the gaping wound.

UNIVERSALISTS. The scholars connected with the Universalist School had a grand time on Monday at their vestry. In the afternoon after enjoying games they were invited to the beautiful tables, laden with good things such as the appetite, and which they enjoyed, if one can judge by the hearty manner in which they devoured the ice cream, cake, etc. In the evening there were games; also, singing and speaking, and the presents were distributed from two beautiful trees.

On Sunday evening the school gave an excellent concert, which was very creditable to the superintendent, teachers and scholars. Notwithstanding the severe cold weather, a good audience was present.

Brief Locals.

Slippery.
Good coasting.
Happy New Year.
 The Loud family furnished music for the skating rink, on Christmas evening.
 Miss Nellie Moulton, of Lacomia, N. H., passed Christmas with friends in this town.
 The Superintendent of Streets had a two-hour team on Friday morning ploughing out the gutters.
 Clapp Brothers announce that they will sell the balance of their Christmas stock at less than cost.
 On Thursday evening we were visited with rain, thunder and lightning. Rather unusual at this season of the year.

The Water Company are still laying street pipe, but the work naturally goes on slowly this rough weather.
 Miss Ella M. Freeman, postmistress at Quincy Point, is enjoying a brief respite from business in New York.
 Services have been held at Christ Church every day the present week, and will continue until after New Year's.
 The services at Christ Church Christmas morning were very impressive, the musical portion being exceedingly interesting.

A scarcity of water has been the cry for the past six months, but we think there will be no need of fearing a water famine now.
 G. F. Wilson is moving to his splendid new store on Hancock street, and is in hopes to be able to open on New Year's morning.
 Anyone desirous of procuring a nurse, housekeeper or girl for general housework should not fail to read the advertisements in this paper.

Madam Arcen's dancing school for children, opens on Saturday next, and if the weather permits, she will probably have quite a large gathering.
 The drawing of the prizes which was to have been held at the skating rink last Monday evening was postponed until next Tuesday evening.

Mr. Charles P. Tirrell, senior member of the firm of Tirrell & Sons, is very feeble, being unable to leave his bed. He has been an invalid for many months.

Mr. Washington M. French has received his reappointment for deputy sheriff, an office he has so ably filled for the past thirty consecutive years.
 Many of our citizens have been sorely vexed lately by their houses leaking. The gutters being full of ice and snow did not carry off the surplus water.

The very stormy weather of Thursday evening prevented several of our young people from attending the "Old Maid" dance at the Milton Town Hall.

Misses Emma Curtis and Mary Osborne, two Quincy young ladies who have been teaching school at Staten Island, N. Y., are in Quincy during the Christmas vacation.

Several prizes drawn at the G. A. R. fair have not been called for, but can be had by calling on Mr. Geo. A. Ordway, as will be seen by a notice in another column.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Mount Vernon Bank, for the election of directors for the ensuing year, will take place on Tuesday next.

The stores were crowded on Christmas Eve, and our merchants were quite exultant over their extensive Christmas trade, which they say never was so large before.

Messrs. Joseph E. Thomas and Arthur Smith of Quincy Point, left their homes on Thursday evening for the far West. Their destination is Lincoln, the capital of Omaha.

Police Officer John T. Hunt of Atlantic, son of Charles N. Hunt, Esq., has been presented this week with a handsome diamond pin by his friends, for a Christmas present.

James E. Tirrell, Esq., of this town, has been nominated by Gov. Butler as a Master in Chancery for Norfolk County, and now awaits the approval of the Council.
 Mr. Henri Bell, employed at Drake's boot manufactory, was presented on Christmas with a handsome whip, by friends in the shop. Who says his horse will not go?

We were not going to see Mr. J. Oliver Williams on our streets yesterday. He has been confined to his bed over two weeks, and has suffered much from a sore hand.

Miss Susie C. Flint, who has been teaching a private school in Geneva, N. Y., is spending the Christmas holidays with her people in this town. She likes her new location very much.

Notwithstanding the severity of the weather last Sunday evening, there was a large audience of the ever-ready to participate in the interesting exercises appropriate to the Christmas time.

Dr. Farrar of Dorchester delivered a very interesting lecture to gentlemen on the "Laws of Health," at the vestry of Christ Church on Monday evening. The stormy weather prevented many from attending, and a wish is expressed that he will come again.

The Christmas decorations at Christ Church were very fine. Great taste was evinced in the arrangement in front of the Chancel, and the ornamental and festive festooning of the green, and the whole display was pronounced very beautiful.

It has been rumored during the week that the Robertson House has been let, but we learn that this is not the case, although there are steps being taken to have it sold, as it is believed, as a public office-house.

We learn that Mr. Leander King was knocked down and robbed of a watch, chain and seal, and $35 in money, on Wednesday evening, about nine o'clock, while passing along Granite street. There were four in the gang who assaulted him.
 The weather on Sunday last was the coldest in Quincy this winter, and the thermometer varied from twelve to seventeen degrees below zero. It remained icy cold throughout the day, and the churches were slimy attended.

The Seotchemen of Quincy under the auspices of Clan McGregor, hold their annual ball at the Town Hall on Monday evening next, as will be seen by advertisement.
 Mrs. Esther Hunt, who resides on Howard street, Braintree, near the Quincy line, left on Monday for Washington, D. C., where she intends spending the winter. She contemplates a very enjoyable time during her sojourn in the Capital City.

Mr. John Page, Jr., while riding on Elm street, Quincy, Christmas morning, met with an accident, caused by his sleigh going into one of the trenches which had been dug for the water pipes. He escaped uninjured, but one side of his sleigh was completely demolished.

The inmates at the Quincy Home were made happy on Christmas Day. They were treated by their kind-hearted Superintendent to turkey, pudding, nuts, etc., and were made as comfortable as possible. There are now twenty-seven at the Home, all adults. Children are found comfortable homes in other places, whenever they are brought there. Of the twenty-seven, nine are on the sick list, and require considerable care.

It will be seen by the advertisement in another column, and by the small bills to appear later, that next Tuesday night the Universalists celebrate the opening of the New Year with an Old Folks Concert and a Corn-Supper in their vestry. Special preparation warrants the prediction that all will be more than repaid for their very moderate cost. See hand-bills for further particulars.

The Good Templars' sociable, which was held at Faxon Hall on Wednesday evening last, proved to be quite a pleasant affair, there being about 130 persons present. The entertainment consisted of a short speech by Mr. Charles Hersey, instrumental duets by Misses May E. McNeil and Annie A. Pierce, and readings and recitations by Miss Lulu Totman and Misses Carrie and Minnie Littlefield, all of whom acquitted themselves very creditably.

First Church, The Christmas festival of the First Church Sunday School celebrated Monday evening was delightful as such affairs are usually. The children began to gather in from about four o'clock, and the time in merry-making. Then they marched to the lower hall to a bountiful supper, after which they again assembled in the upper hall to witness a Christmas opera. This was sung and acted by numerous imps and fairies, assisted by a queen and Santa Claus. The part of queen was taken by the five-year-old daughter of Mr. Alvin Morrison of Braintree, and she performed it with great spirit and impressive sweetness. Dressed in white, with a crown on her head, and a wand in her hand, she looked the fairy in every one of her few inches and cunning gestures; and her singing was quite "fairly like music."

The other parts were well done by the children; their choruses being especially fine. The advent of Santa Claus was more than usually surprising. He gave gifts to all; and then with a chorus from imps and fairies he concluded the services. The Parents and children remained a short time longer and finally dispersed with happy memories of the occasion.

CHRISTMAS EVE. Christmas eve was celebrated at Christ Church with appropriate services, in which the children, assisted by the choir, rendered some very beautiful hymns and carols. At 10 o'clock the services of the church were taken from the handsome Christmas tree and distributed among the Sunday School scholars, all of whom were remembered.

SEVERE ACCIDENT. Mr. Joseph T. French of Quincy met with a serious accident Monday afternoon last. He was engaged in removing the ice and snow from the gutters and roof of his residence on Washington street, when the ladder he was standing on slipped and he was precipitated to the ground. He broke two ribs, received a severe cut on the face and forehead, and several bruises, which will probably keep him home for several weeks.

Trucks for good nursing may be expected to see him in a short time at his lively stable home once more.

ROBERTY. Mr. Miles McGinnis informs us that his sleeping apartment at the residence of William Norris, Jr., on Granite street, Quincy, was entered early on Thursday morning, by some burglar, and $46.75 carried away.

IN LUCK. Our young and enterprising merchant, Mr. John H. Dinegan, drew the lucky number of the Massachusetts fair last Saturday, which entitled him to the prize of $500.

Among the prizes drawn at the Catholic fair that same evening was an elegant oil painting, valued at $100, which was drawn by his wife.

WHAT A SNOW BALL COST. On Tuesday evening, as the 11.30 train of West Quincy, Joseph Hart, of West Quincy, was seated in the car.

He was seated by Officer Farnham and three men, who were to accompany him to the Congregational Church, to participate in the interesting exercises appropriate to the Christmas time.

Dr. Farrar of Dorchester delivered a very interesting lecture to gentlemen on the "Laws of Health," at the vestry of Christ Church on Monday evening. The stormy weather prevented many from attending, and a wish is expressed that he will come again.

The Christmas decorations at Christ Church were very fine. Great taste was evinced in the arrangement in front of the Chancel, and the ornamental and festive festooning of the green, and the whole display was pronounced very beautiful.

The Good Templars' sociable, which was held at Faxon Hall on Wednesday evening last, proved to be quite a pleasant affair, there being about 130 persons present.

The Masonic Fair.

On Saturday evening last, the grand fair by Rural Lodge properly came to a close, although on Monday evening a large number attended the auction of the articles remaining unsold. Considering the very stormy weather all last week, which caused the attendance on some of the evenings to be very small, the lodge is to be congratulated for the handsome financial success, for it is estimated that the net result will be at least $2,000.

The arrangements for the fair were well carried out, and reflect credit on the fair committee, and in this connection we know there was no one who took a livelier interest and did more arduous work than the Worshipful Master of Rural Lodge, Albert A. Brackett, Esq., who was found worthy and well qualified for the duties imposed upon him. Mr. Brackett has devoted considerable of his time for the past three months, and especially during the last few weeks, and besides acting on several of the important committees, sold 549 season tickets.

The Masonic committee selected by the lodge to distribute the presents among the season ticket holders were Past Masters Baid and Jones and Hon. Wm. A. Hodges. Dr. F. J. Bonney was selected by the people to see that fair play was meted out to all, and he was assisted in the drawing, first by Miss Nellie James, and afterwards by Miss Addie Scott. Below is the official list of the lucky numbers, the articles they drew, and the happy possessors:

District Court, Quincy.
 The following criminal cases have been before the Judge of this Court, since our last issue:
 Joseph D. Hart, of Quincy for an assault. Found guilty and fined $3 and costs.
 Patrick Lyons, of Weymouth, for third drunk. Sent to the House of Correction for two months.
 Morris Deane, of Dorchester, for an assault on Charles H. Goldthorpe. Found guilty and fined $5 and costs. For an assault also on L. M. Hollis he was discharged.
 Dennis J. Harrigan, of Quincy, for being drunk, was fined $1.
 James Scamell, a minor, of Milton, for larceny of clothing belonging to Joseph Fox. The case was continued one week, and the defendant was held in $200 bail for his appearance.
 Charles H. Davis, of Holbrook, was before the Court yesterday morning on two complaints. One for breaking and entering, and the other for an assault on Martin Conboy. After hearing the evidence for the government, by request of the defendant, the case was continued until this Saturday morning, and he was committed to the lockup.

INSOLVENCY. Mr. Frank O. Nash, of Weymouth, has filed a petition for insolvency which shows his liabilities to be $150,000 and his assets at $82,000. The following are some of the principal creditors: Glendon Company of Boston, $98,535; Rhodes & Co., of Boston, $33,280; Central National Bank, $13,500; W. Tucker, of Dorchester, $42,957; J. W. Robertson, of Quincy, $17,000; City of Boston, for taxes, $624,945; M. H. Sanders, of Dorchester, $12,500; H. Nash, of North Weymouth, $873; W. H. Nash, $679. The assets consist of land and houses in Dorchester, mortgaged for $10,000, also mortgaged to J. W. Robertson for $17,000, to W. Tucker for $42,957, to M. H. Sanders for $11,500.

QUINCY POINT. The First Baptist Church at Quincy Point held a very enjoyable time at their chapel on Monday evening last. A handsome tree, laden with beautiful gifts was the principal attraction.

The Congregational Society of Quincy Point celebrated Christmas eve with a festival, and a very social and pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Owing to the absence of our Point correspondent we have had no letter from that section of the town for the past two weeks.

Summary of News.
 Five members elect of the present Congress have died already.
 Three San Francisco firms employ twelve vessels over 20,000 tons of capacity, and this year they have caught 1,700,000 codfish.
 Vanderbilt has just spent $120,000 for a new building for his art gallery.

Two aged people of Abington, Mr. and Mrs. John Wade, died in that town only a few hours apart, the husband expiring in the evening and the wife the next morning.

Vineyard Haven, which was destroyed by the last August, already has twenty-three new buildings in various stages of progress, the value of them being about $100,000.

The most pious woman of the country dwells in Middleboro. So far this year she has baked six hundred and seven pies for a family of four or five persons.

The November gales cost Gloucester nine vessels and one hundred and twenty men.

The son of Secretary Frelinghuysen is to marry Miss Alice Coats, the daughter of the manufacturer of Coats, of the Westchester territory. When the wedding is celebrated, she will be thirty years of age.

The valuable services of Miss Florinda Vining were appreciated, she being presented with a handsomely painted plaque.

Dr. F. J. Bonney, who was bought by Dr. F. J. Bonney, was the very handsome cake in the flower room was awarded to Eben Prescott, he having guessed that there were 2,200 beans in a bottle held with 2,187. The guesses ranged from 570 to 4,450.

The glass set in the kitchen department was drawn by Levi Stearns, No. 3 being the ticket.

The piano to be awarded to the most popular store-keeper was given to A. G. Durgin.

The East Milton table cleared about $200.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson would not receive the table which fell to the number on his season ticket, having scruples in regard to lotteries. It was afterward sent to Mr. E. W. H. Bass for $14.50, for the benefit of the fair.

Weymouth Items.
 F. M. Adlington, the venerable poet, and for many years a valuable contributor to the Quincy PATRIOT, completed his ninety-fourth year on Christmas day. Some three years ago, while preparing kindling wood, he injured one of his eyes which has now become entirely useless. His bodily health is very good for one so far advanced in years. My old friend we wish you a happy new year, and may you live to enjoy many a happy Christmas birthday.

A grand concert and private party will be given at the skating rink, Clapp's Hall, on Monday evening next. Noah Torrey's Quadrille Band will furnish music.

M. C. Dier & Co. have suspended work at their factory for a few days, as the thirty-two lasters are out on a strike.

The Christmas trees in the churches at the Landing were fully laden and well patronized.

December 1st is past and gone and the bridge on Quincy avenue not yet completed, but perhaps will be sometime.

East Milton.
 Rev. George P. Gilman, formerly of the church in East Milton, has accepted an invitation to become pastor of the Congregational Church in Waverly, Mass., and is soon to remove thither. Last Wednesday evening, while visiting with his family at the house of Mr. Josiah Babcock, he was called upon by a party of friends, and Mr. G. S. Webster, in their behalf, presented him with an elegant French clock, in token of their appreciation of him as a pastor, citizen and friend. The almost overwhelming surprise, the heartfelt response, and the mutual expressions of cordial good-will, made the occasion one to be long remembered by all the participants.

 The landlords of this hotel by the sea, do not prosper, if we can rightly judge from the following article which appeared in the Weymouth Gazette of last week:

"In the District Court at Quincy, Tuesday, before Judge Humphrey, Wm. W. Grant of Boston, was arraigned on complaint of officer Nelson W. Gaultier, charged with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, the alleged offense having been committed at Quincy, Weymouth, in September last. Grant was convicted and fined $50 and costs. He appealed, and the case was set for trial before the Superior Court, Grant's case nearly finishes the long list of cases which have been prosecuted against different parties who have tried to carry on the liquor business at the Point Hotel and Lovell's grove, North Weymouth, during the past summer."

The first party prosecuted was John T. Gallagher, proprietor of the hotel, who was indicted for keeping a liquor nuisance, and fined $50 and costs. He appealed the case, but pleaded guilty to a nuisance, and paid his fine. On another charge against him in the same court, he was fined $100 and costs, and sent to the State Prison for a probationary term.

The next victim was Thomas Connor, who attempted to run the bar at Gallagher's hotel, but was indicted for keeping a liquor nuisance, and fined $50 and costs. He appealed the case, but pleaded guilty to a nuisance, and paid his fine. On another charge against him in the same court, he was fined $100 and costs, and sent to the State Prison for a probationary term.

There was about $100 of liquors seized at the place at different times during the summer, and together with the fines imposed, amounting to $100, makes a total of $200, in addition to the costs. And the expense of legal talent which will probably amount to nearly $500 more, or in round numbers, nearly $1,000 has been expended by Boston rumrunners, in experimenting in a probationary town.

ANOTHER BURST OF ENTERPRISE. The 1891 issue of The Boston Globe three years ago was an immense hit. On January 1, 1884, next Tuesday, The Globe will go back 100 years, and issue a facsimile of a Boston newspaper of January 1, 1784, and give a copy to every reader of The Globe. The state of society at that time will also be given, and The Globe itself will be illustrated, showing the firemen, policemen, etc., etc., of 100 years ago.

A directory has recently been published in London, it is said, giving the name, age and address of every young unmarried lady in this country to whom a fortune has descended, or is about to descend, for the special benefit of importunate peers.
